Charges He Had Been Swindled by "Ring"

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Information that $100,000 was raised in Chicago to force out certain prohibition agents and replace them with men susceptible to the influence of a "whiskey ring," has been obtained through three men arrested here in the last 24 hours, police officials said today.

The arrests were made on complaint of Andrew Pappas, a restaurant owner, who charged that he had been swindled out of large sums of money. The men arrested are Fred Leach, former special agent for the American Railway Express Co., Joseph Schilling, alleged agent of the "ring," and Thomas Kewin, a saloonkeeper.

Pappas declared he would have the support of many other restaurant owners and saloonkeepers who had lost upwards of $100,000 by paying the "ring" for whiskey which never was delivered.

The federal grand jury today continued its investigation of the "ring" after having heard the testimony yesterday of Walter Sadler, a New York broker who confessed, it was said, to participation in whiskey running.

PAYMENT OF ANGLO-
FRENCH LOAN BEGUN

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Payment of the $500,000,000 Anglo-French loan, maturing today, was begun this morning at the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., syndicate managers of a country-wide group of banks which underwrote the loan in 1915.

It is understood that payments will involve more than $200,000,000, the greater part of which represent the French portion of the obligation, England having anticipated the major part of her share.

Today's payment is the largest ever made in connection with an international transaction, but banking interests believe that it will be accomplished with a minimum of disturbance to the money market.

PROPERTY ATTACHED FOR $6000

An attachment for $6000 has been issued on property of George Leavitt of Lowell in behalf of Hall, Duncan & Wall, Inc., of Boston, in an action of contract. The property is in the hands of the Bay State storage warehouse, of Lowell, and the Lowell Trust company. The writ of attachment was filed today in the Middlesex North registry of deeds.

Held for Theft of $15,000 From Bank

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—James O'Rourke, 21, was arrested here today at the request of Connecticut authorities in connection with a $15,000 theft from the Portland (Conn.) National bank, on Aug. 21.

American "Dry" Speaker Kidnapped

LONDON, Oct. 15.—H. S. Warner, secretary of the American Students' Temperance Movement, while addressing a prohibition meeting in Sheffield, was kidnapped by Sheffield university students and driven in an automobile to the Moors, where he was left, according to a despatch today to the Evening News. He was not injured and eventually got back to town alone.

CHARTER BUILDERS TO GET ITTNER REPORT

The Lowell charter commission will resume its sessions this evening after a recess over the holiday and from present indications the meeting will be most interesting one. Among the matters scheduled to come up for consideration is the report of Henry B. Ittner, the St. Louis architectural expert, submitted to the high school building commission last winter, but which since that time has been zealously guarded by the commission. Even Mayor Perry D. Thompson, by a vote of the commission, was refused permission to see the report.

However, at a recent meeting the charter commission requested the high school commission to submit the report for consideration and Secretary Timothy O'Sullivan did so last Friday evening.

Since that time the document has been reposing in the safe of Abel R. Campbell, secretary of the charter commission, who gave Mr. O'Sullivan a receipt for it after Friday night's session.

It is understood that Mr. Ittner made some very interesting comments on the high school situation but their details have not been made public.

This evening's meeting of the charter commission will be open to the general public and individuals will be called upon to express their views and opinions relative to charter matters.

The meeting will be at 7:30 and will be held in the old councilman's chamber on the second floor of city hall.

300 MILE RUN
TO END TODAYCrabtree Arab Gelding,
Breaks Record in Test—
60 Miles in 8 HoursBunkie and Mlle. Denise, Actual Leaders at Start of Final Leg This Morning

CONCORD, N. H., Oct. 15.—After establishing on Thursday a new world record for 60 miles of road travel, Crabtree, the chestnut Arab gelding, owned by W. R. Brown of Berlin, N. H., and ridden by Jack Fretz, the lean and lanky Australian cowboy, was the first horse this morning actually to leave the stable enclosure at the state mobilization field here for the last long stage of the 300-mile equine endurance test that involves a journey beginning at Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., and destined to end today at Camp Devens, Mass.

Crabtree on Thursday covered a trifle over 60 miles from White River Junction, Vt., to Concord, in 8 hours and 37 minutes, elapsed time, and "eight hours flat, actual time, and officials of the endurance test asserted that no such feat for a horse laden as was Crabtree had ever before been recorded. Nevertheless, Crabtree this morning stepped out upon the trail as briskly as if the long journey of yesterday had been no more than an afternoon canter. It was exactly 5 o'clock when the judges gave Crabtree's rider the signal to go. Bunched behind the pacer-ette and only a few seconds later were the thoroughbreds, David Craig and Moscow, the grade thoroughbreds, Bunkie and Mlle. Denise, and the Arab, Ruston Boy. All seemed to be in the race were quickly brought out and saddled and the last animal had pointed its nose toward Camp Devens at 5:35. The last of all was the registered Morgan Castor.

All of the 13 horses that made Concord Thursday night started out this morning and all seemed to be in the race. The veterinarians announced that Moscow and David Craig would be closely watched. State Agent Howard O. Nelson of the New Hampshire S.P.C.A. checked the horses at the start, but offered no objection to the continuance of any of them in the race.

The actual leaders in the race this morning were Bunkie and Mlle. Denise, ridden respectively by Major Koch and Lieut. McGreevy.

Arabs Jump Into Lead

MILFORD, N. H., Oct. 14.—Crabtree and Ruston Boy, both Arabs, owned by W. R. Brown of Berlin, N. H., led the field of horses in the 300 mile endurance test, when they stopped here for the noon rest on the last leg of the contest today.

Mlle. Denise and Bunkie, the two army-grade thoroughbreds, mounted which showed the way to all others during the first three days of the race, were some distance behind the Arabs all the 35 miles from Concord to this village, but came in ahead of the rest of the horses. Dolly, a registered Morgan, was the fifth arrival.

The afternoon run was to Camp Devens, the finish point of the test. The withdrawal during the morning of David Craig, a registered thoroughbred, and Colon, a grade Arab, owned and ridden by Spencer Borden, left 11 horses in the competition, with Moscow the only Kentucky thoroughbred still in the running.

Keeping Polls Open Two Hours Longer

Although the presidential and state election contests have not yet been decided, the local political situation is already getting into shape for the city primaries on Nov. 23. Three candidates for alderman have taken out nomination papers from the office of the election commissioners at city hall. They are George E. Marchand, present commissioner of public property and licenses, Francis A. Warnock, former commissioner of the same department, and Michael H. Harrington, a foreman of the water department.

The two positions in the municipal council which became vacant at the expiration of the present year are those held by Commissioner Marchand and Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy, who is at the head of the department of streets and highways. Mr. Murphy will again be a candidate and others whose names have been mentioned are Robert R. Thomas and Chas. J. Morge, the latter also a former member of the municipal council.

Nomination papers must be filed not later than Nov. 13.

To Accommodate the Women

If a petition submitted to the city council today by Clinton P. Tuttle, an independent candidate for representative in the 15th district, is favorably acted upon by that body, the polls in Lowell will be open from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. on Nov. 2, state and national election day, instead of from 6 a. m. to 4 p. m., as in former years.

In his petition Mr. Tuttle asks for two extra hours of voting in order that the large number of women who will go to the polls for the first time this year may be accommodated.

With the largest check list in the history of the city facing them, the election commissioners realize that the precinct officers will be kept busy every minute if anywhere near the total potential vote of the city is cast. Mr. Tuttle believes that by extending the hours of voting the work will be divided over a greater period and

EN ROUTE WITH GOVERNOR COX

Oct. 15.—"Home folks" of Ohio today again were the objects of Governor Cox's appeal for the League of Nations. He left Columbus early for a trip through northern Ohio, including a rear platform date at Marion, the home of Senator Harding.

The governor was prepared to follow up last night's arraignment at Columbus, of the "motel" groups which he alleged were backing Senator Harding and also to emphasize the league doctrines.

Tonight the governor will speak at Detroit, a return engagement following his speeches in Michigan early last month on the start of his western trip. Tomorrow he will speak at Sandusky, Elyria and Cleveland.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Democratic national headquarters today announced a cash prize of $25,000 had been offered by the pro-league independents to Senator Harding, Senator Johnson, Senator Borah, Senator Lodge, Chairman Hays of the republican national committee or anybody else in the United States, who could first prove that the League of Nations would "abridge the sovereignty of America."

Professor Irving Fisher of Yale, chairman of the pro-league independents, explained that, under terms of the offer, essays must be received by mail or wire at 17 East 41st street, New York city by Oct. 21; that each member of a jury of 12 citizens would be appointed jointly by George White and Will H. Hays, chairman of the democratic and republican national committees—all to be republican ide-als—by Mr. Hays and that, in case the jury was not unanimous, half the prize might be awarded, provided a majority of the jurors so voted.

"This announcement is intended for every newspaper in the United States," Prof. Fisher said, "and is being given for distribution to the various press associations with the request that each newspaper publishing it send to the pro-league independent a marked copy of the issue containing it, so that the independent may report on how many newspapers of each party publish or fail to publish it."

If Mr. Hays admits that such statements and notions are unproved, unprovable, untrue and absurd, he is respectfully asked to publicly so state and also to publicly state that he is requesting his speakers, press bureaus and republican newspapers to cease making such false statements."

COOLIDGE SAYS BOSTON
WILL GO REPUBLICAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Governor Coolidge said here today that a challenge for a debate on the League of Nations, issued by Franklin D. Roosevelt, had not yet reached him, and that if it did he would see what he could do about it. He added that, in general, he did not favor such a method of campaigning.

He predicted that Boston would go republican and said that he believed that the republicans had "a very good chance of carrying Maryland and Kentucky, and better than an even chance of gaining a majority in Tennessee." He said he did not believe the republicans could carry Virginia.

He said he had received letters from voters all over the country stating that they were going to vote the republican ticket this year because they wanted to "get rid of the democratic administration and wanted a change."

Governor Coolidge expressed the opinion that no New England republican senators would fail to be re-elected. Indeed, he said, the prospect was bright for the entire republican ticket in New England.

Embargo Will Have Far-reaching Effects Upon Neighboring CountriesOnly Unforeseen Intervention Can Prevent Tieup of British Coal Industry

LONDON, Oct. 15.—(By Associated Press)—Unless some wholly unforeseen intervention develops, more than 1,000,000 coal miners throughout the United Kingdom will begin a strike tomorrow and the country's all-important coal industry will be paralyzed.

A conference of miners' delegates announced today that in view of the government's unsatisfactory reply to the claims for an increase in wages, there was nothing left to do but strike.

It was announced that some of the men in the engineering department would remain at work to keep the mines in order.

Coincident with the strike decision came the announcement that the government had placed an embargo upon the export of coal. This move will have far-reaching effects upon neighboring countries more or less dependent upon Great Britain for their supplies.

Many British industries, notably in the iron and steel branches and some of the shipbuilding and engineering works already are arranging to close down.

The question whether the railwaymen would unite with the miners was the subject of deep public concern today, but no indication as to its course was forthcoming from the railway union.

The government has made every preparation to cope with the situation and no fear is expressed for a food shortage in the immediate future.

Salesman

So that an itemized account of goods taken and of charges of breaking, entering and larceny may be made, Philip London, a salesman, whose case was put over from yesterday on two counts of alleged larceny of goods valued at about $500 in this city, was again called in police court this morning, Judge Enright sitting, and continued under $4000 bonds until Oct. 22. London was unable to furnish bail and was committed to the house of correction at Cambridge.

The breaks in this city already charged against the defendant, include three places at 30 Alken street in the early part of August, a break at 129 Summer street, a break at 405 Middlesex street. Other charges, the police say, will be preferred.

Lieut. Petrie, to whom goes the credit for capturing London, stated this morning that the defendant is suspected to be the one for whom the police have been looking since the last of July and who had the department puzzled with what is said to be clever work. Lieut. Petrie also stated

SEN. HARDING HECKLED

Cheers for Cox at Republican Meeting in South—Speaker Scores Hecklers

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 15.—The administration's attitude toward foreign trade, the Wilson policy in Mexico and the league covenant written at Versailles were the special objectives of Senator Harding's assaults on the democratic lines in his campaigning yesterday and last night through the borderland of the "solid south."

Charging that "secret diplomacy," as practiced by democratic officials, had kept American business men from learning of trade opportunities abroad, he declared the state and commerce departments must be reorganized to give more active aid in developing commerce with other nations.

The president's Mexican policy he denounced as having brought distrust in Mexico and humiliation at home, and he advocated a program of amicable relations to insure protection of American interests on Mexican soil without interfering unduly in the internal affairs of the Mexican republic.

In his discussion of the league he reiterated that he wanted no council of foreign powers to dictate America's part in the world, and, reading Article 10, he told his audiences that as spokesman for the republican party he was "opposed to it." He added that in due time the nation would find a way safely and practically to organize the conscience of the world for peace.

His arraignment of the democratic attitude toward foreign trade was the theme of a night address in the Louisville armory.

Roaching here late yesterday he eluded a throng at the railway station by leaving his train at the edge of the town, but he was recognized and cheered by many along the streets and was the centre of a rolling wave of applause wherever he went. Spending the night here, he will turn northward tomorrow for a whirlwind swing through Indiana.

Stigmatizing the state department as representing the "lowest possible class of government service" in building foreign commerce, the candidate declared in his speech here tonight that "a complete new policy" was necessary if America was to take a place in international trade. The diplomat in service, he said, had been "demoralized" by the appointment of men, "some of whom had no other qualifications than that of being very large campaign contributors."

The first task of the nation in working for world peace, he said, was to "set its face toward an international association under which each may be free to express and maintain its own nationalism, but in which mutual commercial and trade problems may be worked out." He outlined again his plan to put the nation's foreign loans into negotiable form.

The candidate's Mexican policy first was outlined to a crowd of several thousand who surrounded his car at Somerset, Ky., and was repeated in

SEN. UNDERWOOD IN 31 PROMINENT MEN TO DEFENCE OF LEAGUE SUPPORT HARDING

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—Before an audience of business men in the Boston City club last night, Senator Underwood of Alabama, father of the Underwood tariff and active in the passage of the federal reserve act, discussed his, the democratic, party from what he termed "the business standpoint," foretold a reduction in federal taxes, and replying to the request of President-elect Calvin Coolidge, Mr. Underwood pointed out "the path of honor" in America's position on the League of Nations, came out with a dispassionate and whole-hearted endorsement of the treaty and the covenant.

The Alabama senator predicted that taxes to the extent of perhaps $2,000,000,000 would be lifted from the backs of the American people. He made an exhaustive indictment of the republican party for its failure to pass the federal reserve act in its 50 years of "law making" power and held up for approval the action of the democratic party in passing the measure, over republican opposition for the greater part, only three months after it came into power in 1913.

He emphasized, nevertheless, that the democratic party, never favoring class, expected "wealth as wealth" to be taxed on a basis equitable with the taxation of articles of consumption. The three parties of 1873, 1893 and 1907 Senator Underwood attributed to the absence of the federal reserve act. For the federal reserve act idea, he said, no party could claim credit, because it had been existent in Europe 75 years before its adoption by the United States. Some of the language and terms Senator Underwood admitted belonged to the republican Senate. But, he said, the fundamental principle characterized the bone and fibre of democratic principles. The reason, he said, the republican party failed to pass it, was because it sought to pass control of the country's finances into the hands of powerful banks and was defeated, whereas the democratic party in passing it placed control in the hands of the government, where, he said, it belongs.

The result of the business administration of the democratic party, Senator Underwood went on, left the American dollar a gold dollar after the war, whereas in other countries depreciation of currency resulted as measured in the gold unit. Even today, he said, business men would prefer the system which is now in effect for the present situation to "the best years of the republican party." He asked whether the working man would like to go back to the pre-war wages in spite of the additional cost of living, and pointed to the disappearance of "the great American tramp" as testimony that this "migratory bird" has found opportunity and that all working men under the democratic party have found the opportunity of employment.

CHANNING COX REFUSES TO DEBATE

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—Lieut.-Gov. Channing H. Cox, republican candidate for governor, yesterday declined to hold a joint debate with Senator John Jackson Walsh, his democratic opponent, at the Parkman bandstand on Boston common, Oct. 16.

The lieutenant governor characterized the challenge of Walsh as a "desire to have me assist in furnishing an audience for his opponent."

ROOSEVELT WOULD DEBATE COOLIDGE

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 15.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic vice presidential nominee, last night challenged Gov. Coolidge, republican candidate for vice president, to a joint debate on the League of Nations, "any time, any place." The challenge was contained in a telegram addressed to Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the democratic national speakers' bureau, which Mr. Roosevelt read before an audience which packed the Coliseum here last night.

Several later speeches. He declared democratic campaign speakers were saying republican victory meant war with Mexico, but added that "this campaign scare will not deceive America a second time." Coolidge and tranquility, he said, would result from the program he proposed to inaugurate.

At Louisville, Ky., the senator left his train and was taken to a football field where he made a speech from an improvised wooden stand. Members of the Center college football team whose practice was interrupted by his arrival, gave him three cheers and a tiger, and then as the nominee began speaking, another group of students took up the yell with "Cox" substituted for "Harding."

Mr. Harding waited until they had finished, and then shaking a forefinger at the group, shouted: "I like for young fellows to be enthusiastic about their leader, but I want them to be Kentucky gentlemen and not insist on interrupting. I respect the man who has his convictions and I respect my fellow Americans who have extraordinary convictions than I have, but when you are a real American you listen to both sides of the case, especially if the one who is speaking is a candidate for the presidency of the United States."

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—A statement explaining the position in the presidential campaign of 31 prominent men who have advocated some form of international agreement was issued over their signature here last night and announced they would support Senator Harding, the republican nominee.

After renewing the arguments of the two great parties on the league issue the statement concludes: "We therefore believe that we can most effectively advance the cause of international co-operation to promote peace by supporting Mr. Harding for election to the presidency."

The statement bore the following signatures: Lyman Abbott, Robert S. Brookings, president Washington University, St. Louis; Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University; Paul D. HARDING REFUSES TO DEBATE COX

ON BOARD SENATOR HARDING'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Oct. 15.—Republican managers on Senator Harding's train announced definitely last night that the democratic proposal for a League of Nations debate between the republican nominee and Gov. Cox would not be accepted.

Senator Harry S. New, head of the republican speakers' bureau, said he had not yet received the proposal sent him by Senator Pat Harrison, in charge of democratic speaking arrangements, and added:

"I would not for a moment consider a proposition so utterly absurd."

Neither Senator New nor other members of the candidate's immediate party would go into detailed discussion of the subject, but it was said that Senator New's position accorded with that of Senator Harding.

The question of a joint debate is not a new one, although a broker formally now for the first time, and during the campaign Mr. Harding frequently has told his friends that he did not regard direct debate as a course in Blackstone Manufacturing Co.

41 North Street, Boston, Mass.

The sale of these Woolens the past two weeks have broken all records. Hundreds of men and young men have taken advantage even at this early call of supplying their winter wants with a suit and overcoat, at this extraordinary low price of $20.00.

Around a Hundred and Forty Good Styles Left to Choose From

This is unquestionably the best purchase I have made in four years and coming at a time when I am loaded with Fall woolens. I don't care to carry this stock in connection with my present one and have decided to use it as an advertisement and place it on sale at a price that is in most cases less than one-half of the original figure.

BLACKSTONE CLOTHING CO. STOCK $30.00 TO $40.00 SUITINGS, MADE TO YOUR MEASURE, ANY STYLE

This is an excellent opportunity for my old customers to take advantage of the values which I consider to be the lowest Suit or Overcoat offered in New England today.

These garments are made by union tailors, getting the same pay as the tailor who makes your $75 suits elsewhere. The selection of cloths are Blues, Greys, Browns, Stripes and Fancy Novelties, made to your measure.

Ready-to-Wear Overcoats

I have reserved one whole window for a display of ready-to-wear Overcoats. Most of these garments are strictly hand-tailored, some are silk lined throughout, others are one-half satin lined. I have them in one-half belted, whole belted, with patch and vertical pockets, Ulsterette styles and the English Raglan effects. From what I have seen in store windows, the lowest grade of these coats would retail around $40 to $45.

If I have your size, I have a number of styles as low as

HOME RULE COMMITTEE

Appoints Sub-Committee to Secure Lower Fares—
Wants Waiting Room

The street railway home rule committee abandoned its attempt to secure a five-cent fare for the Lowell district of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. at its regular monthly meeting late yesterday afternoon, but appointed a committee consisting of Secretary John B. Curtin and Walter Durfee to co-operate with a special chamber of commerce committee in an effort to secure lower fares on the local lines.

The committee also recommended that Manager Thomas Lees take steps to have a store in Merrimack square under the chamber of commerce rooms taken over to be used as a waiting room.

The meeting was called at 4:10 with Mr. Sullivan in the chair as chairman pro tem. Others present were Messrs. Curtin, Wells, Carney, Matthews, Durfee and Hobson, and Manager Thomas Lees and Supt. Vard B. Leavitt of the Lowell district of the Eastern Massachusetts road. Mayor Thompson came in later.

Secretary Curtin read a statement from Homer Loring, chairman of the trustees of the road detailing the receipts and expenditures of the Lowell district during July and August. In July there was a net income of $5,337.33, and in August a deficit of $11,065.31.

Mr. Wells asked why there was an increase of $10,000 in August over July in the cost of operation as it pertained to motormen's and conductors' wages. Mr. Lees said that a certain amount of money was set aside to meet an anticipated increase in wages. Supt. Leavitt said that many new men were broken in on the one-man cars during August and each of them received a full day's pay while learning. There was also heavy riding on the Lakeview line, he said.

On motion of Mr. Wells it was voted to instruct the secretary to ask the trustees to explain the difference and also state whether the road had set aside any money to meet the recent increase in wages before it actually went into effect.

The trustees should be willing to lay the cards on the table," said Mayor Thompson.

"Undoubtedly they are desirous of doing so," said Manager Lees.

Chairman Sullivan brought up the matter of the five-cent fare proposition. He said he still favored this fare from the square to the city limits.

He didn't wish to "saddle" anything upon the city, he said.

Mr. Wells turned over to the secretary a report of a committee of the chamber of commerce urging the city not to take over the lines of the Lowell district and operate them at a five-cent fare as it would be impractical. There would have to be an increase in riding of 70 per cent if the district were to meet its expenses during the coming year.

Rev. Mr. Matthews asked who would manage the road if the city should take it over.

Mr. Lees said that the present management would continue, as he understood it.

Rev. Mr. Matthews said that he did not feel like endorsing any such proposition, although he didn't wish to reflect on anybody. Mr. Durfee said that the five-cent fare question is about dead.

"The next thing to do is to consider

MRS. HENRY BECKER

Of Exeter, Nebraska, Glad To Tell What Sister Mary's Compound Did For Her Baby, Says:

"Our baby, now about 22 months old, and a very frail child, took an awful cold and cough last winter and nothing seemed to help her get rid of it. Seeing your advertisement in the Catholic Tribune, we thought we would try Sister Mary's Compound. Before baby had taken two-thirds of a bottle, her cough quit and she gained in flesh and color and is now a healthy baby. Thanks to Sister Mary's Compound. Our baby also had stomach and bowel trouble very bad, but since using the Compound she had no trouble at all during the summer and at present is well and lively. There is nothing, in my mind, that can equal Sister Mary's Compound for children suffering from stomach and bowel troubles and cough. I don't want to be without a bottle of Sister Mary's Compound in the house. I will be glad to tell others what your medicine has done for our little one."

For Coughs, Colds, Stomach, Throat and Lung Troubles; valuable as a Body Builder and Blood Purifier. At all drug stores.—Adv.

what we can do," he said. "We should appoint a sub-committee to co-operate with the chamber of commerce committee in studying the matter."

Mr. Carney thought that the five-cent fare might be put into effect in short zones. That would bring about a lot of the short-haul riding concerning which so much has been said, he believed.

"It would be impossible to carry people in this city at five cents a head and make ends meet," said Manager Lees.

"Under the present administration, perhaps," said Mr. Matthews, "couldn't we have less trustees—say three instead of five? That would save $10,000."

"Our salaried force has been cut to the limit," said Mr. Lees. "This company has shaved just as far as it can possibly can. It cannot reduce its administration one iota. There isn't any railway company in the country that is more economically administered as far as its executive force is concerned than this company."

"I'm very glad to hear that," said

Rev. Mr. Matthews, "and I hope the public is told about it."

In response to a question from Rev. Mr. Matthews, Mr. Lees said that the company had paid no dividends since 1905.

Mr. Durfee spoke about the prospects of using one-man cars during the winter. Mr. Lees said that a rotary brush device was designed to keep the tracks clear for these cars. In other cities where they have been in operation during the winter it has been reported that they have worked satisfactorily.

Mr. Wells asked how the trustees arrived at their new rate of fares without actually knowing how many people were riding in the city and how many outside the city.

Mr. Lees said that the company had records of the number of tickets sold and cash fares received in the Lowell district.

It was voted to appoint Messrs. Curtin and Durfee as a sub-committee to co-operate with the chamber of commerce to secure lower fares and better service.

Chairman Sullivan asked what rent the company was paying for its quarters in Prescott street. Mr. Lees said $50 a month is being paid.

Mr. Sullivan suggested that the store under the office of the chamber of commerce, which is now vacant, be rented and used as a waiting room and for office purposes. The winter is coming on and something should be done, he said.

Rev. Mr. Matthews moved that the committee recommend that the store be rented and used as Mr. Sullivan suggested. The details were left in the hands of Mr. Lees when the motion was carried.

The matter of electing a permanent chairman was brought up and on motion of Mr. Carney, Mr. Sullivan was unanimously elected.

PERSECUTION OF JEWS CONTINUES

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Continued persecution of Jews, with bloodshed and cruelty, in Poland and Hungary's reported by Morris Rothenberg, chairman of the executive committee of the provisional American Jewish congress who returned here recently from the Jewish world relief conference in Carlsbad. Mr. Rothenberg declared that attacks on Jews in Poland have ceased at no time since the armistice. He says that while anti-Semitic excesses in Poland were mitigated by the protest meetings held in America, "assaults upon persons and property in a smaller degree continued throughout Poland."

"Gradually these assaults assumed larger proportions," said Mr. Rothenberg, "until within the last few months Jews have found it unsafe to walk in the streets. Conditions came to such a state that the Jewish deputies in the Polish parliament appealed to the minister of war and Minister President Witos, who promised that they would take steps to stop these outrages but nothing was done."

Mr. Rothenberg said that during the advance of the soviet armies on Warsaw the Jews readily enlisted in the Polish armies, but that they were attacked and persecuted by the Poles and were given the "most filthy and degrading work to perform." The Jews complained to the military authorities but the persecution was not mitigated, he charged.

"Immediately after the first victories all Jewish soldiers were driven from the various fronts," Mr. Rothenberg asserted, "their ammunition was taken, their uniforms removed and they were put under guard as though they were offenders. The Polish soldiers began to regard the Jewish soldiers as criminals. Every time the Poles took a city they killed Jews who came their way, and numbers of old Jews were shot without trial. The officers in charge afterward said that they killed Bolsheviks. This was a lie. In order to cover these outrages the minister of war issued an announcement that a large number of armed Jewish Bolsheviks were found in many cities. This information was fed only to the Poles and was not mentioned in the dispatches for the outside world because it was apparent that these statements could not be substantiated."

Mr. Rothenberg charges that the Minister of War and Minister President Witos refused to see Jewish delegations who called upon them to complain about anti-Semitic outrages. "The spirit of the Jews in Poland is being utterly crushed by these terrible events and they feel that they can no longer bear up unless these terrible excesses are stopped," he added.

According to Mr. Rothenberg, 300 Jews have been murdered in Hungary from December, 1919, to June, 1920, and he charges that the officers and soldiers of the White Army are the chief fomenters of anti-Semitism. He said that the "young nationalists" declared that they were willing to stop the pogroms provided laws were enacted that would destroy the Jews economically.

"This is now being done," said Mr. Rothenberg. "Laws have been passed punishing—protesting by dragging, but the producers are not affected by this law. It is only the middlemen, which means the Jews. Those who are found guilty are flogged and put in concentration camps and exiled."

Ousting of Jewish civil service employees in Hungary is also reported by Mr. Rothenberg. "Laws are also being passed specifically directed against the Jews without mentioning them," he said, "as for instance licenses of all persons engaged in commercial or industrial pursuits are revoked and application must be made for new licenses which may be issued at the discretion of the department in charge. Such licenses are not being granted to Jews, thus utterly preventing them from pursuing their former occupations. A law was passed that only those belonging to military formations could be admitted to universities. As Jews are not allowed to belong to these formations, Jewish students are unable to get into the universities. Many of them have been compelled to go to neighboring countries in order to pursue their studies and are experiencing terrible want and suffering."

BEWITCHING SIMPLICITY IN WILD ROSE FROCK

BY CORA MOORE,
New York's Fashion Authority.
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—There have been petal gowns and petal gowns, but none of them, even among the cut-in scallops that are finished with

Paris creations, has been quite so attractive as this wild rose frock that Maude Hanford wears at the Hudson theatre.
And it is so simple. All of tulle save for some folds of creamy tulle inside the low-cut square neck. Any clever home dressmaker can copy it successfully.
First, there is a straight, narrow underskirt of the tulle or of tulle and silk. Then a shawl top, then a lining but none of them, even among the cut-in scallops that are finished with

EX-SERVICE MEN GET Y. M. C. A. SCHOLARSHIPS

About fifty ex-service men have been granted scholarships by the educational committee of the local Y.M.C.A. within the last three months. The total amount awarded amounts to over $1000. Scholarships were awarded to those men who guaranteed that they would pursue their studies to a successful conclusion, regardless of the war service which they had. All were allowed to choose the school and course desired and then the educational committee rendered what assistance it could. According to Secretary Howe, the scholarship money allotted to the local committee has been utilized, but State Director Bumpus will, in all probability, make another allotment to this city so that those men who have not received scholarships already, will be assisted. The committee in charge of the allotment is as follows: A. P. French, chairman; H. E. Howe, secretary; H. J. Ball, C. T. Upton, C. B. Redway.

DON'T SQUEEZE BLACK-HEADS—DISSOLVE THEM

Squeezing and pinching out blackheads make the pores large and cause irritation—then, too, after they have become hard you cannot get all of them out. Blackheads are caused by accumulations of dust and dirt and secretions from the skin and there is only one safe and sure way and one that never fails to get rid of them—a simple way, too—that is to dissolve them. Just get from any drug store about two ounces of calomel powder—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—wash off and you'll be surprised to see that every blackhead has disappeared, and the skin will be left soft and the pores in their natural condition—anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should try this simple method.—Adv.

Are Women Naturally Despondent?

A prominent writer so claims. Women are constituted with a delicate organism and in nine cases out of ten mental depression may be attributed to an abnormal condition of the system, which expresses itself in nervousness, sleeplessness, backaches, headaches, causing constant misery and as a result despondency. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a simple remedy made from roots and herbs, is the one great remedy for this condition. It goes to the root of the trouble and overcomes despondency.—Adv.

GIRLS' CLUB PAPER

The first issue of the Girls' Community Service club paper was published yesterday under the name of "Our First Club Paper" and dedicated to Miss Catherine L. Cronin, secretary of the club. The issue contains special departments with articles and pictures. Between now and January a name contest will be held and the best name for the paper sent in by any club member will be chosen for the paper.

Only a limited number of the first issue were printed. It is possible that a class of journalism may develop from the publication of the club paper and, if so, it will prove one of the most popular in the club. The staff of the paper is as follows: Lillian Allard, editor; Sadie Melancon, business manager; Alice Coyne, assistant business manager; Helen Latour and Ethel Dickson, recreation department; Lillian Renaud, Gertrude McCrosson, community service activities; Anna Kelleher and Anna Pollard, classes; Ethel Winslow, Gladys Paige, social activities; Beatrice Hession, Catharine O'Neill, humorous section.

THE GRAND CANYON

"The Grand Canyon of Colorado" was the subject of an illustrated lecture given late yesterday afternoon and last evening before the students of the Bartlett school by Col. C. H. French. The lecture proved very instructive, while the scenes shown on the screen were very interesting. Col. French will speak this afternoon at the Morey and Washington schools next Monday at the Pawtucket, Tuesday at the Moody and Varnum and on Wednesday, Nov. 24 at the Lincoln school.

CONFESSION OF "CRANK" MADE PUBLIC

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—District Attorney Henniger yesterday gave out a confession which he said had been written by Augustus Pasquale, "The Crank," describing the kidnapping and smothering of 15-month-old Blakely Coughlin.

The confession says Pasquale was in Morristown last May to raid telephone pay stations and while walking along the road heard a baby crying and saw its mother put it to sleep. Then Pasquale conceived the idea of stealing the child for ransom.

A few nights later, he returned to the Coughlin house and entered the baby's room by means of a ladder. When the child started to cry he wrapped a coat around it, took it down the ladder, and after walking about three-quarters of a mile he sat down to look at the baby and found him dead.

"I killed him by holding him too tight around my breast a little too long," the confession said. "So not knowing what to do with him, then, I took him down to the river because I didn't want to put him in the ground."

He recounted that he did not want the dirt and worms to touch him. So he took him to the river and sat there by the track with the boy in his lap until he saw daylight coming. Then not daring to hold him any longer, he tied him with a string that he found on a wagon to the stone quarry nearby to a piece of rail that was also in the quarry. Then he threw him in the river.

The confession said Pasquale had to wait until the newspapers came out with the story of the kidnapping before he could learn the name of the child's parents and write a letter to them for money.

"I can't find a name strong enough for myself," the confession continued. Pasquale wrote he had no intention of harming the baby, and that he would have returned the child even if he did not receive any money.

"But I'm his murderer, I killed him," the statement concluded.

from an Englishman who recently returned from Russia, where for 14 years he was the manager of a large cotton factory near Moscow. Sir Charles estimates that of the 2,000,000 spindles running in Russia before the revolution not more than 200,000 or 300,000 are now operating.

The experiences of the English manager of the Moscow factory were told as an example of the methods employed by revolutionists in dealing with one of Russia's great industrial assets, the textile factories in the Moscow district. This particular mill carried on all the processes from cotton spinning to the finished product, 17,000 workers having been employed under normal operating conditions.

When the Bolsheviks assumed power the whole cotton industry was nationalized. At every mill committees were formed and finally, in October, 1919, a decree was issued that all who had been connected with the former owners would have to leave. With this decree issued, the mill stopped. After a time attempts were made to re-start it, but it was almost impossible to obtain raw cotton. Small quantities were obtained, which after being diluted with 75 per cent waste, was put through the processes.

The machinery now is in a very bad state. In such a state, in fact, that it would be almost impossible to operate the factory properly, according to the information given Sir Charles. Whenever machines are damaged, other machines are denuded of parts to repair them.

Sir Charles stated that there was little possibility of English workmen going to Russia for employment in textile factories. Mills in Germany and Austria were turning out only from 25 to 30 per cent of the normal production, he said, and English workers faced the almost impossible task of making up for the four and a half years' stoppage of textile manufacture owing to the war.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

United States Entry Cannot Be Decided By November Election, Says World Peace Foundation

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—The trustees of the world peace foundation, the million-dollar endowment established in 1910 by the late Edwin Ginn, have unanimously adopted a declaration that American entry into the League of Nations cannot be decided by the November election. The statement says:

"The problem of the organization of the world for peace is greater than any man or any body of men. Although the ratification of the treaty of Versailles, with or without reservations, was prevented by the failure of the president and the senate to agree, nevertheless, whatever political party may come into power, it will find that the interest, the conscience and the sense of duty of the American people will require the nation to take its part in the essential work of establishing and preserving the peace of the world. The world peace foundation was created to promote the organization of the world for the prevention of war. The trustees of this foundation believe that the only way of achieving that result is by joining the existing League of Nations, with such modifications, if any, as the wisdom of our statesmen may think proper for the welfare of the United States. We have assurance that foreign governments will welcome the United States with any such modifications as it may think necessary."

The board of trustees includes both democrats and republicans. Their declaration is signed by William H. P. France, president of Brown university; George W. Anderson, Sarah Louise Arnold, professor George H. Gluckstein of Clark university; Stephen Pierce Duggan, president A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard, former Governor Samuel W. McCall of Massachusetts; Miss Perry, Albert E. Pillsbury, Geo. A. Pittman and Joseph Swain, and Edward Cummings, general secretary.

RUSSIA'S COTTON INDUSTRY DESTROYED

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Russia's great pre-war cotton industry has suffered to such an extent during the revolution that it is doubtful whether many of the mills ever will be able to operate again, says Charles Macara, an English authority in the world's cotton trade, in an interview in the Yorkshire Post.

The Public Be Pleased!

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the P&Q Organization, the following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS it is important that all merchants assist to reestablish normal prices, and

WHEREAS it has always been the policy of the P&Q Organization to lead in all movements for business betterment, and

WHEREAS it is evident that woolen prices show a downward tendency for Spring and we may be able to replace our goods at somewhat lower prices, therefore be it—

RESOLVED that in keeping with a spirit of cooperation with the public demands, we have decided to take our loss now and sell all our goods at next years prices, and that the President be instructed to so notify the managers of all stores.

The above telegram explains a further reduction of $5 on every P&Q garment—this is the second $5 reduction in a short time—as P&Q Clothes have always sold for $10 less than others. This additional $10 reduction means that you can buy your Suit or Overcoat at a price so low now that there is no chance of it going any lower.

The prices of P&Q Clothes—quality considered—are always lower than the reduced prices of other clothes. Our factory statistics prove that we are now manufacturing and selling clothes actually at about cost, holding faithfully to a square deal policy with the public, as well as our force of help.

This Downward Revision is now on in every P&Q Shop. The thousands of men who are going to buy P&Q Clothes this Fall will know and appreciate that nowhere in this great land can clothes of P&Q Sterling Quality be bought at so low a price.

HERE ARE A FEW PRICE EXAMPLES THAT WILL EMPHASIZE THE STRENGTH OF OUR REVISION—which is further supplemented by a group of garments from our surplus factory stock. The demand will be unprecedented, because the values are wonderful! We urge early selection!

NURSES FOR POOR FAMILIES

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—A movement to build up an adequate body of nursing attendants to serve at moderate wages in homes where outside care is needed in cases of sickness but where means are lacking to pay trained nurses, has been started in this city. The Household Nursing Association is offering women from twenty to forty-five years of age a carefully planned course which it describes as designed to prepare them "for the care of sickness in the home and the care of the home during sickness."

New classes are formed every seven weeks. The expense for the training is small. The course extends over a period of seven months, beginning with study of the care of the house, marketing, cooking, dietetics and nursing. After this preliminary work the students are sent to co-operating hospitals for four months, receiving actual training and experience in the care of patients. After this care of a mother and baby is then learned in a maternity hospital.

When the course is completed the students are given case work under supervision of a trained nurse for five months. If their work has proved satisfactory they are then given diplomas and are permitted to work independently. Through a registry system the association is able to provide constant employment for graduates of the course.

TO CLOSE FORT VAUX AT VERDUN

PARIS, Oct. 15.—A lesson to tourists too anxious to take away with them souvenirs of the battlefield has just been given by the military authorities of Fort Vaux at Verdun which has hitherto been open to visitors to Verdun. The authorities have decided to close the fort indefinitely. A few days ago a tourist took possession, doubtless as a souvenir, of an electric lamp bulb. He was indiscreet enough to make a flourish of the bulb in a Verdun cafe. The military authorities confiscated the bulb and then came the order making the fort "out-of-bounds" to visitors.

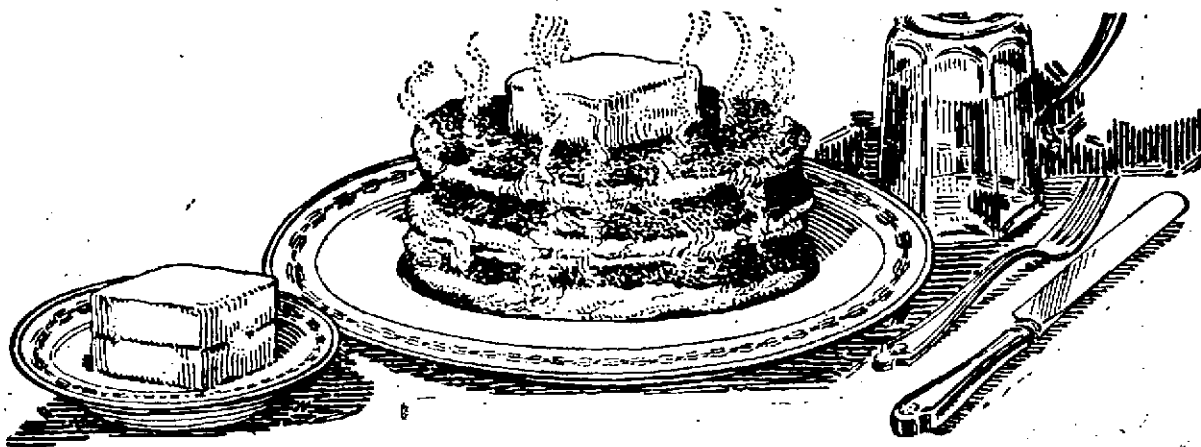

AMERICAN WOMAN ARABIAN CAPTAIN

NEW YORK—Word has been received here by Red Cross officials that Miss Anna Fisher of New York, formerly a Red Cross worker in France, and who is now with the Near East Relief Workers in Syria, has been made a full-fledged captain in the Arabian Army of Prince Faisal, at Damascus. Miss Fisher is in charge of the industrial education of women and children in Damascus. Although the French have deposed Prince Faisal, the prince's Arabian army is said to be virtually intact.

Kingnut

for people of taste

To make griddle cakes tender use Kingnut in the batter; to bring out their good flavor spread it on them generously.

A War Lesson and its Sequel

In war-ridden Europe, where fats were not to be had at any price, margarin saved countless thousands of lives.

Here at home, millions of patriotic Americans learned the wholesome nourishment of margarin, and have naturally continued a delightful habit.

For once you try Kingnut on toast or griddle cakes, you would never think of giving it up even if it were not such a great economy. It is delicious, pure, and high in calories; fine in texture, and always uniform.

If you could see the spotless kitchens in which Kingnut is made, it would add to your delight in its taste. Pure vegetable oils and pasteurized milk—that is Kingnut.

FIGHT AGAINST LEPROSY AND TUBERCULOSIS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Refined chaulmoogra oil which experts of the government public health service say has arrested the progress of leprosy is soon to be used by them in the fight against tuberculosis. The experiments with tubercular patients will be conducted in Hawaii.

Dr. T. J. McDonald, superintending physician of the leprosy investigation station at Kalahe, will start the fight against tuberculosis, at the same time continuing their work against leprosy.

No concrete result of the use of the chaulmoogra oil in tuberculosis cases has yet been reported to the headquarters of the public health service here, but from their investigations with tubercular bacilli isolated from a patient, Mrs. McDonald and Dean have hopes of successful treatment of patients themselves.

The bacilli of leprosy and tuberculosis, according to government scientists, have been found to have similar characteristics, and the fatty acids of chaulmoogra oil seemingly have proved poisonous to the leprosy bacilli. This is the basis for the scientific hope that these acids likewise will be deadly to the germ of the "white plague."

Dr. McDonald has not yet made any formal report of his work with the tubercular germs to officials here, but unofficial reports from Honolulu quote him as saying that scientists at the University of California have discovered that the fatty acids of chaulmoogra oil are bactericidal to an acid-fast bacillus, in which class are the leprosy and tuberculosis bacilli.

The inference, according to the doctor, is that what has been done to end the dread of leprosy may possibly be repeated to relieve the world of tuberculosis.

The public health service maintains a tubercular hospital in Hawaii separate from its leprosy stations, and the experiments with tuberculosis are to be conducted at the former. Health officials here refrain from any prediction of results, but express hope that chaulmoogra oil will prove a specific for curing tuberculosis.

DOOR KEYS UNDER BAN Considered Unnecessary in the Bolshevik Scheme of Life Now in Vogue in Russia

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Door keys are considered unnecessary in the Bolshevik scheme of life in Russia. "Only privileged persons are supposed to possess them."

When The Associated Press correspondent was recently in one of the nationalized hotels at Omsk he was informed by the hotel "commisair," formerly the owner, that under the red regime doors are not supposed to be bolted.

An appeal to the Omsk Bolshevik commandant resulted in the American correspondent obtaining an official document granting him a key and the privilege of looking the door of his room.

Lady Montagu and Nettie Adler, decesses, have been appointed city magistrates of the greater City of London.

NEW INFORMATION BUREAU AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Information regarding any activity in which the government is interested will be furnished to the general public through the information service section of the United States bureau of efficiency here, according to announcement from the bureau. The information service is an outgrowth of the act as a reference index to activities bureau's investigation into the duplication of work in government departments, undertaken at the direction of congress.

"If you are interested for instance in the primitive condition of prehistoric man, in present day activities in agriculture, in culture, education or commerce or desire to know where to apply for the classification and biology of the corn-leaf beetle, write the bureau of efficiency. Information section," the announcement said. "The section will act as a reference index to activities bureau's investigation into the duplication of work in government departments, undertaken at the direction of congress."

THE LATEST AMERICAN GOWN IS NAMED FOR MRS. WARREN G. HARDING.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 15.—Every woman, be she a staunch republican or a dyed-in-the-wool democrat, is expected to fall for the latest American gown—the Harding campaign gown which was exhibited by the Fashion Art league, held in September at the Auditorium and Congress hotels, Chicago.

This gown is named for Mrs. Warren G. Harding, wife of the republican nominee for president of the United States, and was designed by Madame Alla Ripley, president of the league. It is, as its creator says, "An American gown for American women."

American Material

The material is all American made, the wool, a brown Tuscarora cloth from American woolen mills and the brown satin from American silk mills.

The gown is made with the long lines that give slenderness to the matronly figure, is cut in Redingote style and worn over a brown satin slip. The neck is slightly low in front, cut square and a collar either of metallic ribbon or white lace may be worn with the gown. The sleeves are long and are made of the brown satin, and the embroidery which adorns the frock is done with silk floss and wooden beads in dull green, copper, dull blue and black.

An All-Day Gown

"This gown," says its creator, "is one that may be worn on the street, at luncheon, the matinee, on the train, at an informal dinner or an afternoon tea and yet allow the wearer to be perfectly gowned." In other words, it's an all-day gown. And to complete it is

FINLAND AND POLAND IN SECRET AGREEMENT

RIGA, Oct. 11.—(By Associated Press)—Political discussion has been excited throughout the Baltic states by the arrival in this city of Rudolph Hoist, Finnish minister of foreign affairs, to conduct negotiations with M. Dembski, head of the Polish peace mission which reached a preliminary peace agreement with soviet Russia late last week. His arrival is looked upon as confirmation of insistent rumors that Finland and Poland have made a secret agreement that neither will complete a separate peace with the Bolsheviks until the two countries reach a perfect understanding, and lay the foundation for a Baltic union, in which the two countries will be the backbone.

Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania, being smaller than Finland and Poland have regarded them with suspicion and Poland's aggressive action against Lithuania has added to this distrust. The three small countries, however, are so fearful of the Bolsheviks that they realize they cannot stand alone, and it seems likely that the organization of a Baltic union will be effected soon.

Lithuanians are greatly agitated by the announcement by Polish authorities that two Polish regiments are moving against Vilna to dislodge General Zeligowski and his troops, the action of whom in occupying Vilna has been disavowed by the Warsaw government. Lithuanians claim these additional troops are merely reinforcements and they are panicky over the movement of troops, said to be Polish, from Vilna along the railway toward the Latvian frontier.

Latvians also are uneasy and have mobilized troops along their border to resist the "outlaw" Polish troops, should they attempt to cross. Entente officials are exercised over the attitude of the forces in Vilna which are said to have insulted the League of Nations commission and prevented it from entering the city.

F. A. VANDERLIP SPEAKS
Until Interruption Caused by War is Repaired Millions Face Starvation

SOUTH HADLEY, Oct. 15.—The need for an enlightened and broad visioned citizenship which would look on the progress of civilization in the large, instead of being concerned only with domestic conditions, was stressed by Frank A. Vanderlip of New York in the Founders' Day address at Mt. Holyoke college today.

"Until the interruption caused by the great war is repaired," the speaker said, "millions of people will be on the verge of starvation. This has great significance, as economic causes are among the chief causes of war; economic pressure has furnished the reason for most revolutions."

"While the economic pressure resulting from a disorganization of world trade will fall with far greater severity on some peoples than on others, I believe that the countries of

Held in Plot to Destroy Cotton Gins

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 15.—Eight white farmers have been arrested near Bald Knob, White county, charged with conspiring to destroy cotton gins that refused to obey warnings to close until the price of cotton reaches 40 cents a pound. Deputy Sheriff Plant said that all eight had confessed and implicated others. He said many additional arrests were expected.

HARDING CONTINUES TO ASSAIL LEAGUE

ON BOARD SENATOR HARDING'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Oct. 15.—In a trip through southern Indiana today, Senator Harding continued his warfare against the Versailles League of Nations, and asked for "a return to the constitution" through the election of a republican administration and a republican congress.

Leaving Louisville this morning, he was to reach Indianapolis during the afternoon after numerous short stops for speeches from the rear platform. Tonight he will speak in the Indiana capital and tomorrow night will wind up his trip with a speech in St. Louis.

Among the senator's guests on his train were Senator James M. Watson and several republican nominees for congress and he spoke for the election of each of them, telling his crowd that if they were to have a republican president, it would be better to make a clean job of it and choose a congress that would co-operate with him. He praised Senator Watson's record of service, declaring his to be one of the most useful of the men in national public life.

SAYS MacSWINEY MAY DIE ANY MINUTE

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The officials of the Irish Self-Determination League, which sends out reports regarding the condition of Lord Mayor MacSwiney in Brixton prison, have made no comment on American press reports that some of the New York physicians regard a 60-day fast as humanly impossible.

They reiterate their denial, however, that he is receiving nourishment of any kind. The league officials declined yesterday to speculate on the time the mayor may yet be able to hold out, merely saying: "He might die any minute, or, on the other hand, he might survive several days."

Mrs. MacSwiney continues to make her customary three-hour visit each evening to her husband's bedside.

TO STABILIZE DUTCH FINANCIAL AFFAIRS

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 14.—Efforts to stabilize Dutch financial affairs are being made, following another drop in stock quotations today, but some financiers express the opinion that there are no signs that the low mark in prices had been reached. The stocks most seriously affected were Havana Sugar and Royal Dutch Petroleum, which sank, respectively to 600 and 720, but American exchange was somewhat easier.

Former Minister of Finance Troeb advocates that Holland pay gold to America for coal delivered here in order that the price may be reduced and German coal prices forced down to an equivalent level.

FOR INTERNATIONAL EDUCATIONAL BUREAU

MILAN, Oct. 14.—Proposals for the establishment of an international educational bureau on the same lines as the International labor bureau were adopted at a plenary session of the conference of League of Nations societies today.

The conference also favored the inclusion in the curricula of all educational institutions from primary schools to universities of lessons in the principles of the foundation of the League of Nations and the duty of citizens toward it.

It was also recommended that a day be set apart each year all over the world to celebrate the anniversary of the founding of the league.

WORKED ALL NIGHT ON FIRE ON DUMP

Members of hose company 10 were called to the dump in the rear of the Lowell Textile school last evening shortly after 6 o'clock and so stubborn was the blaze that the men were kept on the job until this morning at 5 o'clock when a second shift replaced the men who had worked all night. At 1 o'clock this afternoon the men were still on the job.

At 7:23 o'clock last night an alarm from box 25 summoned a portion of the department to the rear of the Farragut house in Central street for a slight blaze in a shed. There was little damage.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Frederick Kingsbury and Miss Mary Claus were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, 31 West Sixth street, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Karl P. Meister of the Centralville M.E. church. At the close of the ceremony the couple left on a honeymoon trip to the White mountains.

Entabrook—Olson

The marriage of Mr. Albert E. Entabrook and Miss Mae A. Olson took place Oct. 11, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Chauncey J. Hawkins, at his home, 129 Fairmount street. The best man was Mr. Albert Olson, a brother of the bride, while the bridesmaid was Miss Grace Entabrook, a sister of the groom. The couple will make their home in this city.

NON-COMPETITIVE EXAM

Dr. Harold L. TEMPERANCE INSTITUTE

Mathew Temperance Institute Celebrates the Anniversary of Fr. Mathew

With appropriate exercises the Mathew Temperance Institute last evening celebrated the anniversary of Rev. Fr. Mathew, the apostle of temperance, for which the institute is named.

The speakers were Rev. D. J. Keleher, Ph.D., who gave a sketch of the life of Fr. Mathew and the organization of the Mathew Institute in Lowell; Daniel J. Donahue, Esq., who dealt particularly with the Irish question and the justice of Ireland's claims; Edward F. Slattery, an old time temperance worker and friend of the society, who drew upon his experience as probation officer to show the great need of work such as is being done by the Mathew Institute.

Rev. Dr. Keleher

Arthur M. Flaherty was chairman of the meeting and after making a few introductory remarks he introduced Rev. Dr. Keleher, whose remarks were in part as follows: "I think it is a good time to revise some of our thoughts of Father Mathew. Some people thought that when prohibition came in there would be no need of a temperance society, but unfortunately there seems to be more need now than ever before. There is more drinking while drunk, more drunkenness among young men than when we had the open saloon. I am not speaking against prohibition, but simply mentioning facts." He then urged those present to bring in more members and spoke of the poisonous effects of the liquor which is being produced nowadays. "Tonight," he said, "we are holding the 39th Lowell celebration of the birth of the apostle of temperance, who for the love of Christ taught people to lead temperate lives. He was born in 1780, 120 years ago, in Ireland and died in 1856, just 63 years ago, in Ireland. My father and mother took the pledge from Father Mathew and I know many other people who were acquainted with Father Mathew. He went to a college near Dublin where many Irish priests are trained, but decided to become a Franciscan monk and so joined them. He was ordained when 24 years old by Archbishop Murray and later served in Kilkenny for one year and then in Cork for 24 years. He later became Provincial of his order in Ireland, serving for 23 years and then became head of the Diocese of Cork. He was very zealous and lived among the people, organizing schools, industrial clubs, societies for savings to help people pay their rents, and doing everything to help the poor people. On April 10, 1838, the first meeting of the Cork Total Abstinence society was held. About 60 people attended, but later membership grew into the millions all over Ireland and in 1849 Father Mathew came to America and stayed here two years." Dr. Keleher then urged all members to abhor strong drink and its frightful consequences and to spread the spirit and faith of Father Mathew.

D. J. Donahue, Esq.

Daniel J. Donahue then spoke in part as follows: "It has become very evident even to the most casual student of the matter that the Irish question has been deliberately distorted and misrepresented to America by the agencies of British Imperial rule. That the founders of the Irish Republic, as the representatives of the great majority of the Irish people, are solidly within their rights, politically, morally, economically and racially, cannot be questioned by any normal American who believes in the principles on which this republic rests. If the demands and aspirations of the Irish people are identical with the principles and politics of this republic, if they ask for the things we possess and without which we believe our experiment in free government would be a failure, then the struggle of the Irish to attain national independence is not only righteous and holy, but worthy of American sympathy and support, and opposition to it is virtually treason to American principles. The only difference is, that prior to the revolution, America was a British colony and willingly so, but Ireland has never acknowledged the rule of England and has submitted only to force—to the conqueror's might. The justification for Irish action lies in the Bill of Rights of the state of Massachusetts." Mr. Donahue then took up the provisions of the Bill of Rights, comparing the rights demanded by the American colonies of England with the rights which are now being demanded of England by Ireland.

"These are the rights demanded by the Irish people and denied them by the British government, which today in that unhappy land, is merely organized misgovernment, immorality, injustice and oppression more cruel and odious than that imposed by the Turks in Armenia, or any charge made against the Prussian in Belgium. Any American who denies the absolute justice of the demands of the Irish people is a poor American citizen, an enemy of democracy and human freedom. There is little in history that makes Ireland great, no great increase in population, no sails in world waters, no army; it is the virtue of her women and the valor of her men, her fidelity to God's laws and that fighting spirit that 700 years of sorrow and suffering could not subdue. It is the spirit that animates the Irish that animated the patriots at Lexington and Concord, which enabled the patriots' force with bloody feet to brave the terrors of Valley Forge, which battered down the walls of the Bastille, which swept away the Stuarts.

It is the spirit of liberty, the spirit that burned in the breasts of Emmet and Wolfe Tone, Smith O'Brien and Henry Grattan; which fired the hearts of Lafayette and Rochambeau, that ruled the lives of Washington and Lincoln; the glorious spirit that makes men free, the glorious spirit that spurs the mind, strengthens the arm, and fires the heart of every true son of Ireland."

Edward F. Slattery

Probation Officer Slattery then addressed the members and, as an old member of the society he reviewed the trials of the local branch and urged the present members to increase the membership. He said that in 1887 the institute had 700 members and that the present membership was far below what it should be for a city the size of Lowell. He spoke of the importance of the society as connected with his police court experiences and urged the boys to take up some trade or further schooling and not to give up all their time to dancing, bowling, playing pool or wasting their time at cards and other frivolous amusements.

The entertainers were as follows: Albert Forrest, pianist; Martin H. Maguire, Edward Donahue, John Doyle, Joseph M. Reilly, William Mahoney, and John Keefe soloists. Mr. Keefe rendered "At Steve O'Donnell's Wake," an oddity composed by the president of the G.Y.M.L. Refreshments were served and smokes were passed during the evening.

The committee in charge consisted of Arthur M. Flaherty, chairman; P. Frank Reilly, Thomas Tighe, Thomas Durkin, Joseph Finnegan, Bernard A. Tully, George Bowers.

GENERALS HAAN AND SHANKS AT DEVENS

AYER, Oct. 15.—Major General W. G. Haan, chief of the war plans and training section of the general staff, and Major General David C. Shanks, commanding the first army corps area, with headquarters at Boston, visited Camp Devens today to obtain reports on the educational and recreational work in the area and to put into effect new ideas for stimulating these activities. They addressed a meeting of army and civilian instructors who were gathered here from various posts and stations in New England for a two days' session.

Generals Haan and Shanks arranged to great at the finish of their long ride at Camp Devens this afternoon the contestants in the 200-mile cavalry endurance run.

INDIANS ANGRY

Protest Political Use of Their Letterhead

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Two members of the advisory committee of the Society of American Indians have resigned because the society letterhead is being used to carry republican propaganda.

In letters addressed to Thomas G. Bishop, secretary and treasurer of the Society of American Indians, Washington, Henry Roe Cloud, a Winnebago, president of the Roe Institute at Wichita, Kas., and Congressman C. D. Carter, a Choctaw Indian of Oklahoma, declare indignation by Mr. Bishop and calling for "the decision of a senate that will protect the United States against the democratic program of internationalism" were sent out under a specially printed letterhead of the society.

BIG INCREASE IN BANK DEPOSITS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Bank deposits in the United States increased $1,045,164,000 during the year ended last June 30, according to statements yesterday by Comptroller of the Currency Williams. Loans and discounts increased $5,805,736,000.

Total resources of all reporting banks in the United States, including federal reserve banks, were given in the comptroller's statement at $53,019,108,000. These included national banks, state banks, savings banks, trust companies and reporting private banks, but the total given did not include $1,214,515,000 rediscounts of the national banks.

The capital surplus and profits of all banks were reported at $5,253,553,000 in the report since June 30, 1919, at $18,850,000.

The famous French war decoration, the Croix de Guerre, was instituted as a medal for the world war only.

COX DENOUNCES MOTLEY ARRAY

Greatest Array of Questionable Groups on Record Behind Harding

Survey of Array Brings Blush of Humiliation to an American—Names Groups

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 15.—Vigorous array of the forces he declared were in the opposition ranks was made here last night by Gov. Cox, speaking at the capital in his home state campaign.

That Sen. Harding, his republican opponent, has behind him "the most motley array of questionable groups and influences that ever were behind a candidate—an array that to survey brings the crimson blush of humiliation to an American" was asserted by the democratic presidential candidate.

List of "Motley Array"

Characterizing the various groups named as "parties," Gov. Cox asserted that among Sen. Harding's supporters were the following:

"The reactionary party."

"The pro-German party—whose members opposed our successful prosecution of the war."

"The Italian party, whose members place a futile Italian imperialism over the interests of this nation."

"The low wage party, an organization with a definite understanding that wages must come down."

"The suppression party, whose members say or believe that every bit of progressive thought is to be choked."

"The Greek party and the Bulgarian party, with a common purpose to punish those who considered the welfare of the world superior to the claims of nationalistic ambition."

"The Bayonet party, which believes martial law is a solvent for all industrial disputes."

"The National Isolation party, whose object is to secure autocratic position in the world and whose creed is selfishness."

"The Liberty Bond Speculators' party, now arranging a sudden coup—to prejudice of the taxpayers."

"The Anti-Federal Reserve Act party."

"The Profiteer party—which seeks—to escape payment of tax on incomes swollen by war profits."

"The Anti-League of Nations party, possessing a perfect understanding with Senator Harding that he is to scuttle every plan looking to international peace."

"The munitions making party, an organization with a vast propaganda fund—ready and eager to embroil the world in fresh wars."

"The Afro-American party, whose hyphenated activity has attempted to stir up troubles among the negroes upon false claims that it can bring social equality."

Says G.O.P. "Sold Out"

With these arraignments, Gov. Cox said he had not made a complete list of the opposition forces, but said that Sen. Harding was the candidate of "more than a dozen groups working through the present reactionary republican leadership."

That the party had been "sold to these several designing parties to be prostituted for this campaign," was asserted by the governor. The governor said:

"The campaign for the presidency of the United States has now reached the point where it is possible definitely to get fair appraisement of the forces that are aligned on either side behind the candidates. It is well to take stock of these forces and to assess them at their real worth, patriotic or unpatriotic, to measure them as history will measure them, and to assay them in the light of pretensions to a monopoly on Americanism."

"In general, it is not seemly to question the forces arrayed behind one's leading opponent, but I deem this to be an instance in which there is a right to examine them carefully, and I say this because I have had no hesitancy in granting to my opponent full and free opportunity to examine the forces and influences behind my own candidacy. My nomination came in the open convention, as the result of the free choice of delegates there assembled. I was not nominated at any 2:15 a. m. conference in a smoky back room of a hotel suite, and I am perfectly willing that the forces endorse."

ing my candidacy be examined and compared with those behind the reactionary candidate as part of the issue of this campaign.

"I am, however, more interested in the groups of forces that have been aligned rather than the individuals themselves.

Would Make American Blush

"With this preliminary I assert candidly, rather with sympathy and compassion, rather almost with shame for some of those who profess to be Americans, that the candidate of the senatorial race has behind him today the most motley array of questionable groups and influences that ever were behind a candidate—an array that to survey brings the crimson blush of humiliation to an American, and an assortment of influences that he must begin immediately after the election to repudiate should the unthinkable thing of a reactionary victory darken the happy prospects of a 'victorious and proud America.

"I assert upon the results of a canvass of these United States from the Atlantic to the Pacific that the reactionary forces do not place dependence for success upon one party—the historic republican party which the evil influences of 1912 have again captured, of which they are in full possession.

"I affirm that Senator Harding is the candidate of more than a dozen groups working through the present reactionary republican leadership. I assert and so advise the American people that the party once led by Abraham Lincoln has been sold to these several designing parties to be prostituted for this campaign. I do this so that the sober thinking elements of all parties may know of the uses to which the republican organization has been put that they may repudiate those who have made of their temple a den of disrepute in the attempt to evade the issue of the League of Nations, and distract the public mind from our unswerving support of peace and progress.

Inventory of Groups

"I shall inventory the strangely heterogeneous parties that are arrayed behind the candidate of the senatorial group seeking to annex the presidency:

"First, there is the reactionary party of this country. Then there is the pro-German party, the party whose members opposed our successful prosecution of the war, and gave secret sympathy and aid to the deposed kaiser, the party whose heart would leap with joy were this monster of militarism by some strange prank of fate restored to power. Then there is the Italian party, whose members place a futile Italian imperialism over the interests of this nation and over and above the peace of the world. There is the 'low wage' party, an organization with a definite understanding that the wages must come down to the levels of 1896 or 1908. I have encountered personally many members of this party. Then there is the suppression party, whose members say or secretly believe that every bit of progressive thought is to be choked by denying all classes of liberals the right to express themselves. There is the Greek party and the Bulgarian party, with diverse aims but a common purpose to punish those who considered the welfare of the world as rising superior to the claims of nationalistic ambition. There is the Bayonet party, which believes martial law is a solvent for all industrial disputes. I have encountered its members, too, and they are thick upon the muster rolls of Will H. Hays' 'money diggers.' Then there is the Alavistic party, going back to the economic fantasy that the 'foreigner pays the tax.'

"I assert that Senator Harding is backed by the National Isolation party, whose object is to secure autocratic position in the world and whose creed is selfishness. This party would prevent the hearing of the cases of the oppressed peoples of the world in the court of world public and deny to Egypt, South Africa and Ireland the right to press their claims for local self-determination.

"I charge that Senator Harding is backed by the Liberty Bond speculators' party, now arranging a sudden coup in these securities through some plan of re-issue which will work to the prejudice of the tax payers. I define as arrayed behind Senator Harding the Anti-federal Reserve Act party, whose real purpose is to destroy the greatest piece of legislation adopted by the congress of the United States in half a century.

Profiteers With Harding

"I find arrayed behind Senator Harding the Profiteer party, whose gratitude is expressed for past immunity from effective legislative action and which flames with anger when it contemplates the profits denied it by the gradual reduction of prices under this administration. Furthermore, this party seeks to control the treasury department under a reactionary administration, so that they can escape the payment of tax on incomes swollen by war profits.

"There is the Anti-League of Nations party, possessing a perfect understanding with Senator Harding that he is to scuttle every plan looking to international peace. I invite attention to the obvious fact that its dual leadership, Senators Johnson and Borah, cannot say a word in behalf of Senator Harding's reactionary brand of republicanism, nor in behalf of the basic control of the Chicago convention, nor yet in defense of the slush fund that Borah once characterized as the most 'frightful thing' in American politics. This destructionist array contains the munitions making party, an organization with a vast propaganda fund at its disposal, ready and eager to embroil the world in fresh wars. Of course, this body is for the candidate who would 'scrap the league' and open way to future war. It has a branch known as the Mexican Intervention party, which hopes to secure a president complacent to its wishes who will harter the lives of American boys, and the respect of the nations of the world, for concession in Mexico.

"There is behind Senator Harding the Afro-American party, whose hyphenated activity has attempted to stir up troubles among the negroes upon false claims that it can bring social equality, thereby subjecting the unsuspecting colored people to the counter attacks of those fomenting racial prejudice and endangering them to the bloody race riots which distinguish cities like Chicago, elude of William Hale Thompson, one of the supporters of Senator Harding. Through these appeals to prejudice and through northern invasion of doubtful states, there is invited loss of the true progress of the colored people.

All Made to March Together

"I have enumerated some but not all of the complex parties which for a most extraordinary campaign are to be made to march together. I refer the facts cited to any body of impartial investigators to ascertain the truth or the falsity of the assertions as to the parties I have made.

"No attempt has been made to classify the insidious paid organizations working within reputable associations of the country. I make the assertion without fear of contradiction that there are no less than 20 so-called patriotic organizations formed during the war, like the American Defense society, seemingly for patriotic purposes, sponsored and brought forth deceitfully as agencies for the election of a reactionary candidate. We are finding daily manifestations of the distribution of the huge campaign fund which I charged was being collected and proved had been collected, truth or the falsity of the assertions as to the parties I have made.

"No attempt has been made to classify the insidious paid organizations working within reputable associations of the country. I make the assertion without fear of contradiction that there are no less than 20 so-called patriotic organizations formed during the war, like the American Defense society, seemingly for patriotic purposes, sponsored and brought forth deceitfully as agencies for the election of a reactionary candidate. We are finding daily manifestations of the distribution of the huge campaign fund which I charged was being collected and proved had been collected, from the front porch in Marion there has been something given to every one of these groups. Necessarily the addresses have conflicted at times, more especially when the candidate has sought to reconcile the special interests with the simon-pure Americanism which he affects to represent. But each party has been assured that the work to it is exclusive and controlling and all in conflict with each special message, public or private, is to be disregarded. I insist these facts be submitted candidly for investigation as the issue comes to be determined. I do not envy Senator Harding his motley array of diversified social interests. I would not trade places with him nor accept the obligation that follow when the open secret, or implied promises become due and ready for payment. I bespeak pity for a man burdened as he would be burdened with a load of promises that conflict with the mandates of conscience and with the sacred oath of office. I array the parties seeking to use the historic republican party as a coat to exist upon the issue of peace and progress in America, and peace and progress in the world. This was the basis upon which I was nominated. It is the basis upon which I will take my oath of office. That is the reason

I have been enabled to go to the people and permit them to question me. That is the reason why no man has been denied an answer from me upon any question at any time, relevant or irrelevant."

DISTINCTIVE SLEEVES
DEGREE OF FASHION

BY CORA MOORE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—There is much ado about sleeves. They may be long or short, wide or narrow, but they must be distinctive. Of the very abbreviated models two are shown. The sleeves at the left, finished with the double ruffle, are very full, with the gathers evenly distributed around the armhole so that the material pounces a trifle over the velvet ribbon band even at the under-arm seam.

The second sleeve belongs to a simple checked serge frock. The tiny sleeves are cut with a little fullness which is distributed across the top and then put into a band of white flannel, like the soft, scalloped, turn-over collar that finishes the neck. The band itself is made double and so seamed that it flares out and away from the arm, which is a new feature.

"The Woman With the Serpent's Tongue"

The following poem was written by the eminent English poet, William Watson, who, in a signed statement, admitted that in it he intended to portray the physical characteristics of Mrs. Asquith. The poem was written because of her scorching frankness in her writings—a frankness that appears also in this autobiography.

She is not old, she is not young.
The woman with the serpent's tongue.
The legend checks the lingering eye.
The poisoned words that willy nilly
Who half makes love to you today.

ADDRESSED MEN'S CLUB

Speaker Says U. S. Should Care for Physical Well-Being of Individuals

The results of the draft proved that we are a physically inferior people, said Benjamin L. Young, who is slated for the speakership of the state house of representatives, at a meeting last night of the Men's Club connected with the First Universalist church. Felton L. Moody presided at the meeting that was held in the parish house and was preceded by a supper. Mr. Young's address dealt with various phases of the administration of state government.

As a remedy for physical unfitness, Mr. Young asserted that medical science could accomplish much, and that by reducing the number of criminals, paupers and feeble-minded could cut down the tax rate. "Now is the time for the state to give attention to the physical well-being of individuals," said the speaker.

Mr. Young asserted that our present system of legislative government is inefficient. He said that all the details of legislation are worked out in committees and that much hard, conscientious endeavor is devoted to the task.

"How often we complain of actions of our executive bodies but how often we neglect our own primary duty of voting," said Mr. Young. "The individual is the foundation of our government and if the individual falls there is a great undermining of the policies and fundamentals of our government."

There are a great many needs in our government of today. The first is the introduction of business efficiency, and the second is the development of scientific investigation. Within the last two years there has been a great change in the business methods of our state government. Not long ago there were between 100 and 150 different departments with absolutely no relation to one another and with no responsible chief executive. In response to the prime need and the demands of the public, Massachusetts has adopted a business-like type of government.

"The entire government would continue even if the legislature should adjourn after passing the governor's budget bill. Since the adoption of the budget system the state debt has been gradually reduced—if the debt caused by the soldiers' bonus is disregarded."

Curling Hair Like This

Promotes Its Health

For those whose hair is straight and limp nothing better could be recommended than the siltmerine method. This insures a beautiful curliness which is perfectly natural in appearance, and the health of the hair is not affected as where the heated iron is used. A few ounces of liquid siltmerine—which can of course be had at any drug store—lasts a long time, so it is quite economical to use. It is pleasant to use, too, being neither sticky nor greasy, and is easily applied with a clean tooth brush. The hair should be moistened the full length before doing it up. The pretty wavy effect in evidence in three hours is surprising to those who try this simple method the first time. The liquid also serves as an excellent dressing, giving the hair a delightful gloss.—Adv.

Irving D. Kimball Talks on Y.M.C.A. Work in Struggling Country—Great Admiration for Wilson

Irving D. Kimball, who recently returned from Czecho-Slovakia, where he had been engaged in Y.M.C.A. work, gave a detailed description of that country, its people, its history and the work which the Y.M.C.A. is doing there before a large audience at the Highland Congregational church last evening.

He said that the country is surrounded on all sides by potential troublemakers. Its history has been one of continual struggle to break away from despotic rulers and the people have finally succeeded. They look upon President Wilson as their great liberator, he said, because of his efforts in their behalf. The speaker described the Y.M.C.A. work there in detail.

STAMPEDE TO GOV. COX ALREADY BEGUN

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—George White, chairman of the democratic national committee, last night issued a statement in which he said that "eleventh-hour plans of the republicans would fail to check the republican and independent stampede to Gov. Cox which already had begun."

"The republican campaign is in disorder," he declared. "Party ranks have been broken. Those who for years have affiliated with the party because they have believed that it stood for high principles are deserting it."

"Independents who have often supported it are turning to Gov. Cox. In close council and deep secrecy the Harding campaign managers are seeking frantically to work out eleventh-hour plans to regain lost ground."

One of these "plans," Mr. White said, he understood, was to announce in advance the personnel of the cabinet as Senator Harding would constitute it, if elected.

"It is to contain the names of distinguished men who are seemingly discharging their party obligations at the expense of their convictions and their conscience."

"If the plan is carried out its purpose will be to impress a disgusted nation with the fact that a weak president would surround himself with strong men. It would be a confession of inefficiency unparalleled in the history of American campaigns."

Mr. White stated that the republican party was being deserted for three reasons:

"First: True Americans are determined that the League of Nations can be saved only through the election of Gov. Cox."

"Second: The country has come to know Senator Harding as at best a wabbling of great issues, and, at worst, by his own statement, a sworn enemy of any league."

"Third: Americans will not countenance the republican plan for a separate peace with Germany."

Mr. White referred to Senator Harding's declaration on League of Nations obligations, "I do not want to clarify these obligations. I want to turn my back on them."

"These words," Mr. White said, "smashed the deceitful strategy of a campaign which proposed to fool everybody until after election and began a movement which has become a stampede."

KEEPING ROADS OPEN DURING THE WINTER

The movement inaugurated by state highway officials and taken up in Lowell by the chamber of commerce, whereby roads leading out of Lowell will be kept open during the coming winter, gained considerable momentum last evening when 16 local truck owners conferred with President William N. Goodell and Traffic Manager W. S. Whitcomb at the chamber room.

As previously outlined, the plan is to have the state furnish snowplows to various communities and these are to be operated by the motive power of trucks owned by individuals in each community whenever a big storm comes. All the truck men present at last evening's conference assured the chamber of commerce officials of their hearty co-operation.

More definite details of the scheme will be available at a hearing to be held by the state highway authorities at the state house next Tuesday at 2 p. m. This city will be represented by a committee of truck owners and by chamber of commerce officials.

Thousands of Pairs of New Fall NEWARK Shoes for Men, Built to Sell at the Closely Marked Price of $8.95, and the Equal of Previous $10 and $12 Values--All to Go at $6.00

It's Coming!

You see it more and more each day! Prices ARE coming down! And now we are swinging into line with another smashing economy drive that brings you shoes of superlative quality and perfect style at a tremendous saving!

Sale Begins Tomorrow Morning at 8 O'Clock.

FOR MEN

One of the many elegant styles that were built to sell for $8.95 this Fall. Choice of Gun Metal and Knite Monarchy. Now only $6.00

Do not mistake the nature of this event. It is not a "lucky purchase" of shoes bought expressly for a sale, or anything like that. It is our own entire brand new, regular Fall stock of NEWARK shoes that were built to sell at $8.95 and which were in every respect the same grades that previously brought $10 and $12.

But by the time the Fall season rolled around things had changed. We saw the hand-writing on the wall. Prices were tumbling on nearly everything. And so we deliberately slashed the price of these shoes from $8.95 to $6.00!

Such a radical move at the very threshold of a new season has never been known before in ordinary business practice, but neither has this country ever gone through an ordeal such as it is now weathering.

audience rest for any length of time. They are first rate entertainers, and "Pop" Ward and Frances Rice present comedy and personality delightfully blended. Dick Duffey and Hazel Mann are a great pair who have a model act, and other good things on the bill are: Capt. Betts' seals and monkeys; Elder Sisters, dancers, and Tony, the wandering violinist.

THE STRAND

If you have seen "The Whirl" and enjoyed it you will want to see the latest Metro special, "The Hope," a big Drury Lane melodramatic success which is showing at The Strand. It is one of those big, aristocratic productions that has all of the elements that make a picture offering high-grade. It's a story of social intrigue and the race track. Don't miss it. Then there is Frank Mayo in a story of Smugglers' road along the Canadian border called, "The Red Lantern." It has action and a gripping story.

OPERA HOUSE

You can't afford to miss the production of "Oh, Boy!" which is being presented this week by the Lowell Players at the Opera House. It is a comedy, the best thing of its kind given by local stock circles in seasons. It has catchy music, good humor, and some clever characterizations. Miss Fields and Miss Hill, assisted by a chorus of high school girls, are delightfully pleasing. Miss Hill scores heavily in Maxwell Driscoll's own composition, "The Idol of Erin," and Miss Fields handles her numbers with characteristic grace and charm. Both have good singing voices. Order your tickets early.

RIALTO THEATRE

George M. Cohan's best story, "45 Minutes From Broadway," is meeting with great success at the Rialto theatre. The picture is being shown there for the latter part of the week and has Charles Ray starring in the role of the prizefighter. The other pictures are Tom Moore in "The Adventures of Bear Cliff," Johnny Adams in a screaming comedy, "A Fresh Start," King Hargot in the 13th episode of "The Hawk's Trail," a scientific novelty, and the Fox

M'ADOO SPEAKS FOR COX

G. O. P. Victory Would Mean

Isolation of U. S., Large
Army and Heavy Taxes

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 15.—A republican victory at the polls next month means rejection of the League of Nations and the isolation of the United States, according to William G. McAdoo, declared here last night.

Speaking in the interests of Cox and Roosevelt, democratic presidential and vice presidential candidates, Mr. McAdoo advocated this country's entry into the league, emphasizing what he described as the league's effect on world finance and economy.

He said that the national debts of the chief belligerents of the war, including the United States, were estimated at $235,000,000,000. At a "moderate rate of interest, 6 per cent. and with a sinking fund of 1 per cent. per annum, the annual service of this debt is $14,319,000,000," he said.

"Little more than 1 per cent. of the total United States population—$5,686,000,000 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1920—was devoted to government research work, for education, public health, women's and children's bureau, bureau of mines, bureau of standards, bureau of fisheries, all activities in agriculture, bureau of domestic livestock, vocational education, congressional library, and Smithsonian institute."

"A recent analysis by Dr. E. B. Rosa, of the United States bureau of standards, showed that 92.5 per cent. was for expenditures connected with recent and previous wars and for the maintenance of our army and navy."

"Staying out of the league and playing a lone hand will mean that we cannot reduce the burdens of taxation. On the contrary, we must increase them by arming this nation on land and sea so that it will be impregnable against attack and capable of taking the offensive when our rights are transgressed. This will, of course, increase our tax burdens enormously, because we must begin competing in this matter of armed forces with all the other powers of the earth."

It will also mean universal military training, which is a disguise or soothing term for what is unpopularity known as conscription. We were justified in adopting conscription as a war measure, but as a preparation for future wars, especially when such preparations will be necessary if we join the league, it would be unjustifiable."

"After all, is not this policy of isolation which Senator Harding and the republican leaders insist upon, the necessary corollary of the plan so strongly advocated by leaders of the republican party to adopt universal military training and create a huge army and navy which will make us the chief militaristic power of the world, and threaten the very foundations of free government and democratic institutions which we love and revere?"

"It is an interesting fact that Senator Harding has declared himself a believer in universal and compulsory service oftentimes referred to as conscription."

"The nations of Europe owe the American people more than $10,000,000,000 for money loaned to aid in prosecuting the war against the central powers. In a recent speech, Senator Harding intimated that he would rather see this debt cancelled or forgive our foreign debtors, than allow them to work it out through exchange of goods and commodities."

"He suggests an increase in the tariff to such a high point that Europe will not only be unable to pay the debt, but by practically stopping importation will make it impossible for her to buy our surplus products."

"This would be a policy of the utmost stupidity so far as the interests of the American people are concerned, but it would be a beneficial policy for big business and selfish interests which of course would profit by having complete control of our domestic market, but the farmer with his grain and cotton would suffer more than he already has suffered through decline in our export trade."

BACK FROM WEDDING TRIP
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Landry, the latter formerly Miss Lina Theriault, returned from their wedding trip to New York today, and they will make their home at 17 Goshom avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Landry were married last Monday morning at a nuptial mass celebrated at St. Joseph's rectory by Rev. L. N. Bachand, O.M.I. The bride wore a blue travelling suit and was given away by her father, Mr. J. Theriault, while the groom was attended by his father, Mr. Damase Landry. The groom is the proprietor of the Moody Street Cash market and is well known in local social circles.

Held on Theft Charge

that he thought London was the man wanted by the police of Manchester, Boston, Lawrence and other cities for alleged mysterious breaks.

Of the goods alleged to have been taken by London in this city, Lieut. Pettie has recovered two dress suits, a large amount of mechanical tools which were stolen from 408 Middlesex street and which London is alleged to have sold in Boston for $75, far below their actual value. Goods which the defendant is said to have taken in Manchester have also been recovered in Boston, it is said. The complaints in the thefts already charged are: Alice Beatrice of Alken street, Donna Vincent of Alken street, Mrs. Daniels of Middlesex street, and a machinist by the name of Rousseau of Middlesex street.

London was a hard man to catch, according to Lieut. Pettie, because he is said never to have remained in any city after committing breaks. He would go into a city, Pettie alleged, with his campaign well planned ahead, get the goods and then jump out as soon as possible. Several skeleton keys, the police claim, were found on London and Lieut. Pettie stated that London traveled as a salesman because it was easy for him to get by with large cases without suspicion.

Arrested in Fined $100

A fine of $100 for operating an automobile while drunk and a fine of 10 for drunkenness was imposed upon Arthur Smith, who was arrested in Lawrence street, near Tyler, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Sgt. Philip Dwyer, Officers Boyle and Cawley, after he had driven his machine into one or two trees nearby. Four witnesses took the stand this morning and testified that the defendant was in fact in the influence of liquor. Smith, who could not handle his automobile, was in favor of the benefit of imposing a jail sentence, but in view of the fact that direct sentences for similar offenses in the past have not been sustained by the superior court, the fine was imposed. Defendant procured money and paid cash.

William H. Blum, formerly a second hand furniture dealer of Hecoboken, N. J., and a contractor of Rochester, N. Y., charged with non-support of his wife and three minor children, was found not guilty on one count, but guilty on a second. For the support of his children he was ordered to pay $15 per week. The charge of non-support of wife was dropped because the court found that he has been contributing partially to her support and because the wife, now living in this city, is the owner of a store, which makes from $300 to $325 profit each week and which was bought with money that really belonged to the husband.

Previous to the wife moving to this city, the family lived in Rochester for 15 years, the husband owner of a contracting business. Adversely struck by the business and he is alleged to have made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. Before the alleged bankruptcy crash came he signed over $10,000 worth of property in Rochester to his wife so that he would have something left out of the wreck. Later the wife sold the property and after paying off the mortgage on it came to this city with several hundred dollars and bought the store which she now runs. The husband offered to make a home in Rochester where he insisted upon remaining.

Received Money From Husband
The wife admitted on the stand that she had received some money from her husband and the son and daughter told that every time that the father came to Lowell he gave them some money and bought them some clothes. The court found him not guilty of non-support of his wife inasmuch as it was with his money that she bought the store but found him guilty of non-support of his children on the ground that he was violating the law even though he was contributing partially to their support.

James Kelly and Arthur Higgins, charged with drunkenness and with trespassing on real estate, called on one month with the provision that they go to work meaninging or a sentence to the reformatory would be imposed. Dwyer Bowers, also called on continuance for trespassing upon property, had his case placed on file because the court learned that he had been working since his case was first called and continued.

Other cases included gas for two complaints for drunkenness for which the defendant was given a suspended sentence to the house of correction; a complaint of larceny against a school boy was put over until next Friday; charges of delinquency against two girls; larceny of a horse, two complaints of trespassing which were placed on file. The probation officer released two first offenders for drunkenness.

City Political Battle Starts

therefore, he less audacious. It will also prove a convenience, he believes, to a large number of people who work downtown all day and who would not vote if the polls closed at 4 o'clock.

It Would Be Legal
When the petition was first submitted there immediately arose the question of whether the extension of the hours would not interfere with the state law, Section 27, chapter 285, of the Acts of 1913, which provides: "It says in part:

"In cities, the polls may be opened as early as 6 o'clock in the forenoon and shall be opened as early as 10 o'clock in the forenoon and shall be kept open at least six hours, but in no case after the hour of 5 o'clock in the evening."

Mr. Tuttle's petition will come before the council at its regular meeting next Tuesday when the hours for the holding of the state election will probably be definitely determined.

TO SET THE DATE FOR

O. M. I. FIELD DAY

In the cadet armory in East Merrimack street this evening a meeting of the O.M.I. cadets will be held to consider setting a date for the field day, scheduled for Columbus Day at the Genoa club, but which was postponed on account of the death of Cadet Francis Murphy. Col. Alfred Burns stated this morning that a vote would be taken this evening for the date and it is likely that it will be one week from tomorrow. All the sports and the sham battle planned for Columbus day will be run off on that day.

A meeting of all those men who comprised the firing squad at Cadet Murphy's funeral will also be held this evening. Members of the drum corps are requested to be present.

The members of the O.M.I. football team will hold a practice session on the North common this evening, previous to their game tomorrow afternoon.

MEETING IS POSTPONED

The meeting of the advertising committee of the chamber of commerce, which was to have been held at noon today, was postponed until next week, owing to the absence of the chairman, Harold L. Chaffoux.

RED CROSS WAR WORK

Gave Aid to Fighting Men or Families at Home in 7,000,000 Cases

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The American Red Cross gave aid to the country's fighting men or their families at home in 7,000,000 cases from the entrance of the United States into the war until last June. The cost was about $10,000,000. These facts are shown in a statement issued by that organization today. The Red Cross also describes how it is continuing its peace time aid to the world war veterans.

This article is the first of a series based on the forthcoming annual report of the Red Cross and is intended to show what has been done with the funds given by its 10,000,000 adult and 14,000,000 junior members throughout the country.

The Truth About Eczema and Piles

Thousands and thousands of people, says Peterson of Buffalo, are learning every week that one 35 cent box of Peterson's Ointment will abolish eczema and banish piles, and the grateful letters I receive every day are worth more to me than money.

"I had eczema for many years on my head and could not get anything to stop the agony. I saw your ad and got one box and I owe you many thanks for the good it has done me. There isn't a bight on my head now and I couldn't help but thank Peterson for the cure is great." Mrs. Mary Hill, 420 Third Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa.

"I have had itching piles for 15 years and Peterson's is the only ointment that relieves me, besides the piles seem to have gone." A. B. Ruger, 1127 Washington Avenue, Racine, Wis.

of the Red Cross, the announcement detailing the new work begun at the request of the war and navy departments. In addition to the varied assistance given during the last year to former service men, the announcement shows that Red Cross workers were kept at 200 military and naval stations, including 30 outposts along the Mexican border, to look after the welfare of the men.

"Through Red Cross Home Sections," said the announcement, "thousands of those who otherwise would have been 'lost men' were placed in touch with governmental agencies that could aid them. The organization also maintained workers in hospitals, furnished recreation facilities and supplies for occupational therapy in addition to making loans to patients out of funds because of government compensation checks going astray."

Among the families of the veterans aid was given to thousands monthly, the cases for December 1919, numbering 31,165 and for June, this year, 15,341. During the intervening period they decreased in size by three-fourths while the Red Cross Home Service declined little more than one-half.

Hundreds of motion picture and other entertainments at hospital and camps were largely attended, in December the total attendance being 158,452 and that for June being 55,175. Delivery of $1,000,000 of Liberty bonds bought by men while in service also was effected through the Red Cross during the year, there being 15,900 bonds distributed by it for the government. In 263,539 cases of allotment and allowance of war risk insurance, the Red Cross was instrumental in securing settlements for the veterans' families. It also procured 30,000 compensation and insurance claims.

The answer of most fat people is that exercise and dieting is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous a method to force the weight down. However, in Marmol's Prescription Tablets, all these difficulties are overcome. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or violent exercise, and have the added advantage of cleansing the digestive tract after each meal and at bedtime—as pleasant to eat as candy—will reduce your weight two, three or four pounds a week, and leave no bad results such as wrinkles or flabby skin. A good size box is sold by druggists at the reasonable price of one dollar, or if preferable they may be obtained by sending the amount to the Marmol Co., 24 Garfield Building, Detroit, Mich. They will reach you by mail, prepaid, in plain, sealed cover.

Now that you know this you have no excuse for being too fat, but can reduce two, three or four pounds a week without loss of bad after-effects.

FOR WORLD REVOLUTION 24 HOUR ULTIMATUM CLAIMS HE WAS HURT IN CAR ACCIDENT

Soviet Leader Pleads With Independent Socialists to Join in Move

HAILE, Germany, Oct. 14. (By Associated Press.)—For four hours today M. Zinoviev, chairman of the executive committee of the Third International, and one of the four big chiefs of Soviet Russia, pleaded with the independent socialists at their convention here to join with Moscow, create a revolution in Germany and help carry out the proletarian program for a world revolution. He offered financial support.

At the conclusion of his address, the radicals of the party and the audience in the packed galleries stood with bared heads singing the International while the conservatives walked slowly out of the hall.

A great reaction was then accorded Zinoviev with many "bravo" and cries of "Long live the International!" and the waving of hats.

It is expected the vote as to whether the independent socialists will adhere to the Moscow organization will be taken tomorrow (Friday).

Throughout his impassioned argument, the Russian orator was the storm center of cries of approval from the left and of disapproval from the right. At one time, he charged the German labor unions with being "no better than Noske's white guards," and that they were tools in the hands of the capitalists. The entire audience hissed his disapproval of this declaration and a number of the ring wing leaders, shaking their fists, rushed to the front threatening the speaker and demanding retractions.

NATURALIZATION COMMITTEE

An important meeting of the permanent naturalization committee of this city will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. A. Farrell, 151 Knoll street. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the plan which has been broached some time ago, that of making a thorough survey of the city in order to ascertain the number of French-speaking people residing in Lowell, also the names of all the voters as well as the names of young men whose names should appear on the check list, but do not. In addition the committee will endeavor to secure the names of all young men and young women between the ages of 18 and 21, who are eligible to vote on their first nomination papers. The plan is to have canvassers visit every district of the city and make a house-to-house canvass.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

Merrimack Hotel Property, Corner of Merrimack and Dutton Streets, and Also Several Parcels of Land

PROPERTY WILL BE OPEN FROM 10 A. M. UNTIL AFTER THE SALE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Henry Emery to the Mechanics Savings Bank in Lowell and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, I shall sell at public auction upon the various parcels hereinafter described on Saturday, October 16th, 1920—

LOT NO. 1—
At 2:00 O'CLOCK P. M.
Consists of the well known business property on the main street of the city of Lowell located right in the heart of the business district at the corner of Merrimack and Dutton streets across from City Hall. The property has about 123 feet frontage on Merrimack street and about 156 feet frontage on Dutton street, and contains about 20,000 square feet of land.

This property is known as the Merrimack House Property, Nos. 300-318 Merrimack St. and 133-139 and Music Hall entrance, Dutton St. It is a four-story brick building. Nos. 147-149 Dutton street is a three-story brick building. There is also a one-story building with store numbered 320 Merrimack street.

There are three fire escapes to a passageway leading from Dutton street.

EIGHT STORES
There are eight stores in all, including one formerly used as a saloon, a shoe store, restaurant, ladies' cloak and suit store, butter and egg store, barber shop, tailor shop and electric appliance store.

HOTEL
The hotel has two entrances, one on each street. There are about 50 rooms and almost every room is an outside room, so-called. This includes the large lobby, office, reception rooms, private dining rooms, banquet hall, kitchen and lavatory.

THEATRE
The entrance on Dutton St. is covered by a large electric lighted marquee. Seating capacity is about 900, including the main floor, balcony and boxes. Can easily be enlarged to accommodate 2000 people. Equipped with large stage and dressing rooms. No personal property included in this sale.

This is a corner lot and there is a large passageway leading from Dutton St., therefore the property is entirely open on three sides.

It is only once in a lifetime that you have an opportunity to buy, at public auction, such a desirable piece of property located as it is in the centre of Lowell's best business section.

LOT NO. 2—
At 3 O'CLOCK P. M.
Consists of 15 parcels and lots of land. On corner of MT. HOPE STREET and FIFTH AVENUE, Lot 201 containing about 4000 square feet and Lot 202 containing 3200 square feet.

ON AVON ST.—Lot 123 containing about 3279 square feet, Lot 125 containing 3310 square feet, Lot 126 containing 3325 square feet, Lot 127 containing 3410 square feet, Lot 128 containing 3414 square feet, Lot 129 containing 3419 square feet, Lot 130 containing 3415 square feet, Lot 131 containing 3409 square feet, Lot 132 containing 3345 square feet, Lot 133 containing 3363 square feet, and Lot 134 containing 3358 square feet.

ON CRAWFORD ST.—Lot 95 containing 3575 square feet, Lot 97 containing 3515 square feet, Lot 103 containing 2475 square feet, Lot 104 containing 3169 square feet.

Lots 96 and 102 are slightly smaller than above described.

These lots are shown on a recorded plan and are located in that part of Lowell known as Pawtucketville and have all city conveniences.

ON NEW YORK ST.—Also another parcel of land situated on the southerly side of New York street extension containing 77,000 square feet of land more or less.

This land has about 1000 feet frontage on New York street and is a good location to build houses for people working in the nearby mills.

The 17 lots of land and the parcel of land on New York street will be sold on Lot No. 201, corner of Fifth Avenue and Mt. Hope St.

This is absolutely the most valuable piece of real estate that has been offered at mortgagee's sale in Lowell for many years, and should certainly demand the attention of a large number of investors.

TERMS OF SALE—
$200 in cash to be paid by the purchaser to the auctioneer at time and place of sale on Lot No. 1.
$200 in cash to be paid by the purchaser to the auctioneer at time and place of sale on Lot No. 2. Other terms at sale.
Per order Mechanics Savings Bank in Lowell, Mortgagee and Present Holder of Said Mortgage. JULIAN H. KEYES, Treasurer.

CLAIMS HE WAS HURT IN CAR ACCIDENT

The running of a car of the Eastern Massachusetts St. Ry. company at a high rate of speed, its leaving the track and crashing into a pole were alleged as reasons for personal injuries to Nicholas Shaheen in a suit for damages in which he was the plaintiff against the railway company on trial before Judge Elias B. Hishon and a jury in the superior court today.

The alleged accident happened April 13, 1920, in North Andover. Mr. Shaheen lives in Southford street, Lowell.

Albert S. Howard, of Qun, Howard & Rogers, appeared for the plaintiff; Fred N. Wier of Trail, Wier & O'Donnoghue, for the defendant. The judgment named in the suit is $3000.

The plaintiff was the first witness in the case. He testified that he was riding on a trolley car to his home in Lowell from his place of work in the Stevens mill in North Andover early in the evening of April 13, 1920. The car, he said, while moving fast, ran off the track, hit a pole and partly turned on its side. The plaintiff said he was thrown across the car and struck against somebody's arm or the side of a seat. He said he was dizzy when he picked himself up and also suffered pain, but that he rode home in an electric car. Later he suffered pain, from nausea, and had "trouble" with his head. He had been confined to his bed for two weeks, witness said, and had not been able to work in the mills since.

The witness said he had earned about $40 per week working in the Stevens mill. Since the accident he had worked in an ice cream shop belonging to a cousin and had received $10 or $20 for about two and a half months work. He is now employed in a pool room belonging to his brother.

Cross-examined by Mr. Wier, the witness said he had not tried to obtain employment in the mills since the alleged accident happened. He said he had formerly been employed in a mill in Plymouth for $35 a week, but had left there because of low wages and work in a Lawrence mill for $24 a week, paying 50 cents a day for carfare. He said he had previously been injured in a street car and had consulted an attorney regarding bringing a suit for damages.

Dr. Nathan Pulsifer, the second witness, gave testimony regarding the nature of the plaintiff's injuries. George Nader, a cousin of the plaintiff, proprietor of an ice cream store

In Liberty square, testified regarding Mr. Shaheen's condition previous to and since the accident. Mrs. Nicholas Shaheen, wife of the plaintiff, gave similar testimony.

Dr. James J. Hogan was the only witness summoned by the defense. He testified that he examined the plaintiff three days after the accident and that he had found no marks or bruises on his body. He said that the plaintiff complained of soreness, nausea, of being dizzy and of sleeplessness. He said that in his opinion the plaintiff was not hurt seriously enough in the accident to be suffering from the effects three days after it happened.

The witness said he examined the plaintiff a second time July 1 and had discovered nothing that would lead him to change his opinion.

In the suit of Edgar E. Lord, formerly of East Walpole and now of Lawrence, for the recovery from Thos. F. Phelan, of Cambridge, of the value of an automobile, the defendant was declared defaulted this morning and the jury returned a verdict for $200.

THE BARTLETT SCHOOL LAND SITUATED AT THE CORNER OF CLARK STREET AND HANCOCK AVENUE, LOWELL, MASS., WILL BE SOLD AT PUBLIC AUCTION.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1920, at 3 P. M.

By order of the Commissioner of Public Property and Licenses, I shall sell at public auction for the City of Lowell the land known as the Bartlett school site, containing 10.00 square feet of land, more or less. It has a frontage of about 100 feet on Clark street and about 100 feet on Hancock avenue.

This lot of land is situated in the center of a residential section, facing the North common, and with its large frontage on two streets will make a good building site, and ought to be very attractive to investors.

Per order GEORGE E. MARCHANT, Commissioner of Public Property and Licenses.

PRaises THE IMMIGRANT

Christensen Also Emphasizes Scandinavian Contributions to Political Progressivism of the West

WATERLOO, Ia., Oct. 15.—Parley P. Christensen, farmer-labor candidate for president, in a speech today praised the immigrant and emphasized Scandinavian contributions to the political progressivism of the west.

"There are people," he said, "who want the immigrant pushed to one side where every vestige of his past tradition shall be removed. They would have him geographically washed and sterilized as soon as he steps on Ellis Island."

"I believe that we can so fashion the institutions of this country that the immigrant will, of his own accord, freely and cheerfully assimilate himself of the opportunity to count himself an American."

"I never see an immigrant or hear his broken speech, so often derided, but I feel the debt the native-born owe to these men. You will find that wherever there is a large concentration of the immigrant in the population, progress has been more rapid."

Saying that things proposed by the farmer-labor party had been tried out in European countries, he detailed various state-owned industries, Norway, as transportation, telegraph

Fund Raised to Replace Officers With Men Favorable to "Whiskey Ring"

Chicago Restaurant Owner Charges He Had Been Swindled by "Ring"

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Information that $100,000 was raised in Chicago to force out certain prohibition agents and replace them with men susceptible to the influence of a "whiskey ring," has been obtained through three men arrested here in the last 24 hours, police officials said today.

The arrests were made on complaint of Andrew Pappas, a restaurant owner, who charged that he had been swindled out of large sums of money. The men arrested are Fred Leach, former special agent for the American Railway Express Co., Joseph Schilling, alleged agent of the "ring," and Thomas Kerwin, a saloonkeeper.

Pappas declared he would have the support of many other restaurant owners and saloonkeepers who had lost upwards of $100,000 by paying the "ring" for whiskey which never was delivered.

The federal grand jury today continued its investigation of the "ring" after having heard the testimony yesterday of Walter Sadler, a New York broker who confessed, it was said, to participation in whiskey running.

PLANS FOR FIRE STATION UPSET

Salmon in a Quandary Over Situation in the Highlands Section

Story Circulated That Marchand Has Had Plans for Building Drawn

More complications have developed to delay the erection of a new firehouse in the Highlands section, to replace the Westford street house, which was sold more than a month ago, and so involved has the situation become that Commissioner John F. Salmon, head of the department of water works and fire protection, threatens to name a commission to handle the matter.

The stage was all set for the erection of a house at the corner of Pine and Stevens streets, a few days ago. This site had been officially endorsed by the national board of underwriters as the most suitable location for a firehouse in that section of the city. Albert B. Cameron, owner of the land, had entered into negotiations to sell the property, and Com-

Court Calls for Bonds of $4000 in Case of Alleged Salesman

So that an itemized account of goods taken and of charges of breaking, entering and larceny may be made, Philip London, a salesman, whose case was put over yesterday on two counts of alleged larceny of goods valued at about $500 in this city, was again called in police court this morning. Judge Enright sitting, and continued under $1000 bonds until Oct. 22. London was unable to furnish bail and was committed to the house of correction at Cambridge.

The breaks in this city already charged against the defendant, include three places at 90 Allen street in the early part of August, a break at 110 Merrimack street, a break at 120 Summer street and two breaks at 108 Middlesex street. Other charges, the police say, will be preferred.

Ident. Petrie, to whom goes the credit for capturing London, stated this morning that the defendant is suspected to be the one for whom the police have been looking since the last of July and who had the department puzzled with what is said to be clever work. Lieut. Petrie also stated

300 MILE RUN TO END TODAY

Crabtree, Arab Gelding, Breaks Record in Test—60 Miles in 8 Hours

Bunkie and Mlle. Denise, Actual Leaders at Start of Final Leg This Morning

CONCORD, N. H., Oct. 15.—After establishing on Thursday a new world record for 60 miles of road travel, Crabtree, the chestnut Arab gelding owned by W. R. Brown of Berlin, N. H., and ridden by Jack Fretz, the lean and lanky Australian cowboy, was the first horse this morning, actually to leave the stable enclosure at the state mobilization field here for the last long stage of the 300-mile equine endurance test that involves a journey beginning at Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., and destined to end today at Camp Devens, Mass.

Crabtree on Thursday covered a trifle over 60 miles from White River Junction, Vt., to Concord, in 8 hours and 37 minutes, elapsed time, and eight hours flat, actual time, and officials of the endurance test asserted that no such feat for a horse laden as was Crabtree had ever before been recorded. Nevertheless, Crabtree this morning stepped out upon the trail as briskly as if the long journey of yesterday had been no more than an afternoon canter. It was exactly 5 o'clock when the judges gave Crabtree's rider the signal to go. Bunched behind the pacer and only a few seconds later were the thoroughbreds, David Craig and Moscow, the grade thoroughbreds, Bunkie and Mlle. Denise, and the Arab, Bunkie Bey. The other horses still in the race were quickly brought out and saddled and the last animal had pointed its nose toward Camp Devens at 5:36. The last of all was the registered Morgan Cavalier.

All of the 13 horses that made Concord Thursday night started out this morning and all seemed to be in the best of shape. But the veterinarians announced that Moscow and David Craig would be closely watched. State Agent Howard O. Nelson of the New Hampshire S.P.C.A. watched the horses start, but offered no objection to the continuance of any of them in the race.

The actual leaders in the race this morning were Bunkie and Mlle. Denise, ridden respectively by Major Koch and Lieut. McGreery.

Arabs Jump Into Lead

MILFORD, N. H., Oct. 14.—Crabtree and Rusten Bey, both Arabs, owned by W. R. Brown of Berlin, N. H., led the field of horses in the 300 mile endurance test, when they stopped here for the noon rest on the last leg of the contest today.

Mlle. Denise and Bunkie, the two "army" grade thoroughbreds, mounted which showed the way to all others during the first three days of the race, were some distance behind the Arabs all the 35 miles from Concord to this village, but came ahead of the rest of the horses. Dolly, a registered Morgan, was the fifth arrival.

The afternoon run was to Camp Devens, the finish point of the test. The withdrawal during the morning of David Craig, a registered thoroughbred, and Colon, a grade Arab, owned and ridden by Spencer Borden, left 11 horses in the competition, with Moscow, the only Kentucky thoroughbred still in the running.

CITY POLITICAL BATTLE STARTS

Marchand, Warnock and Harrington Take Out Nomination Papers

Tuttle Files Petition for Keeping Polls Open Two Hours Longer

Although the presidential and state election contests have not yet been decided, the local political situation is already getting into shape for the city primaries on Nov. 23. Three candidates for alderman have taken out nomination papers from the office of the election commissioners at city hall. They are George E. Marchand, present commissioner of public property and licenses; Francis A. Warnock, former commissioner of the same department, and Michael H. Harrington, a foreman of the water department.

The two positions in the municipal council which become vacant at the expiration of the present year are those held by Commissioner Marchand and Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy, who is at the head of the department of streets and highways. Mr. Murphy will again be a candidate and others whose names have been mentioned are Robert R. Thomas and Chas. J. Morse, the latter also a former member of the municipal council.

Nomination papers must be filed not later than Nov. 13.

If a petition submitted to the city council by Clinton P. Tuttle, an independent candidate for representative in the 15th district, is favorably acted upon by that body, the polls in Lowell will be open from 6 a. m. to 8 p. m. on Nov. 2, state and national election day, instead of from 6 a. m. to 4 p. m. as in former years.

In his petition Mr. Tuttle asks for two extra hours of voting in order that the large number of women who will go to the polls for the first time this year may be accommodated.

With the largest check list in the history of the city facing them, the election commissioners realize that the precinct officers will be kept busy every minute if anywhere near the total potential vote of the city is cast. Mr. Tuttle believes that by extending the hours of voting the work will be divided over a greater period and

LAST DAYS NEAR OF POLLING BOOTHS

The day of the "little red" polling booth, which has long been a picturesque feature of Lowell's voting machinery, is fast drawing to a close, according to opinion prevalent at city hall at the present time. Although the booths will be changed in the polling places this year, members of the board of election commissioners have already discussed the project of abandoning the polling booths later on and using school houses and firehouses as voting places.

In many instances, the polling booths have already been supplanted by schools or firehouses. The change has been gradual, but nevertheless, persistent. There is hardly a ward in which at least one precinct is not located in a building other than the temporary polling booth.

The disadvantages of the booths are readily evident. In the first place, they must be set up and taken down every year; sometimes twice a year. They are constantly in need of repair. With the influx of women voters this year the temporary polling booth has few attractions because of its fragile construction and generally unpleasant interior.

Precinct officers who are compelled to remain in the booths on an election day that is stormy usually have a cold or other illness the next day. Improper ventilation makes the counting of ballots often a matter of difficulty and delay. In real cold weather, it is impossible to heat the booths properly.

It is pointed out that with the redistricting of the city, that will probably come next year because of the large number of voters now enrolled, precincts can be laid out in such a way that schoolhouses or firehouses can readily be made polling places without causing inconvenience to any of the voters.

However, no move in this direction will be made until next year, but there is every indication that the temporary polling booth will soon be a thing of the past.

CASH PRIZE OF $25,000 OFFERED

To First to Prove League Would "Abridge the Sovereignty of America"

Harding, Johnson, Lodge, or Anybody Else in U. S. Eligible to Compete

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Democratic national headquarters today announced a cash prize of $25,000 had been offered by the pro-league independents to Senator Harding, Senator Johnson, Senator Borah, Senator Lodge, Chairman Hays of the republican national committee or anybody else in the United States, who could first prove that the League of Nations would "abridge the sovereignty of America."

Professor Irving Fisher of Yale, chairman of the pro-league independents, explained that, under terms of the offer, essays must be received by mail or wire at 17 East 11th street, New York city by Oct. 22; that each member of a jury of 12 citizens would be appointed jointly by George White and Will H. Hays, chairman of the democratic and republican national committees—all to be republican if desired—by Mr. Hays; and that, in case the jury was not unanimous, half the prize might be awarded, provided a majority of the jurors so voted.

"This announcement is intended for every newspaper in the United States," Prof. Fisher said, "and is being given for distribution to the various press associations with the request that each newspaper publishing it send to the pro-league independents a marked copy of the issue containing it, so that the independents may report on how many newspapers of each party publish or fail to publish it."

"If Mr. Hays admits that such statements and notions are unproved, unconvincing, untrue and absurd, he is respectfully asked to publicly so state and also to publicly state that he is requesting his speakers, press bureaus and republican newspapers to cease making such false statements."

Consul Haven Nearly Killed in Wild Firing Attending Trieste, Italy

SOMEBODY TO BE FOOLED

Chairman White Replies to Statement of 31 Prominent Harding Supporters

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—George White, chairman of the democratic national committee, issued the following statement in connection with the announcement last night that 31 advocates of "international co-operation to promote peace" would support Senator Harding for president:

"These distinguished republicans state that the issue is 'Whether we shall join under the exact provisions negotiated by President Wilson in Paris or under an agreement which omits or modifies some of those provisions which are very objectionable to great numbers of the American people.'"

"The same newspapers which carry this pronouncement report a speech by Senator Hiram Johnson, in which he said of the Harding attitude: 'He has put the league behind him. He wants neither interpretation nor reservation, but rejection.'"

Each of these interpreters supports his view with quotations from speeches of Senator Harding, who has been most generous in saying something on all sides of the issue.

"Somebody is going to be fooled," Democratic headquarters made public a telegram from Senator Pittman, chairman of the democratic national committee headquarters in San Francisco, declaring that Senator Harding's statement that he had turned his back on the league had "destroyed the last hope of progressive and pro-league republicans that they could obtain their desire by voting for the republican presidential candidate."

"They are coming out openly in California and the rest of the west in favor of Cox," said Senator Pittman. "The democrats haven't got money enough to demonstrate their confidence and joy and the republicans are ashamed that they haven't anything but money. The silent vote is all for Cox."

WALKOUT SET FOR TOMORROW

Only Unforeseen Intervention Can Prevent Tieup of British Coal Industry

Embargo Will Have Far-reaching Effects Upon Neighboring Countries

LONDON, Oct. 15.—(By Associated Press) Unless some wholly unforeseen intervention develops more than 1,000,000 coal miners throughout the United Kingdom will begin a strike tomorrow and the country's all-important coal industry will be paralyzed.

A conference of miners' delegates announced today that in view of the government's unsatisfactory reply to the claims for an increase in wages, there was nothing left to do but strike.

It was announced that some of the men in the engineering departments would remain at work to keep the mines in order.

Concurrent with the strike decision came the announcement that the government had placed an embargo upon the export of coal. This move will have far-reaching effects upon neighboring countries more or less dependent upon Great Britain for their supplies.

MINERS' WIVES PROTEST STRIKE!

LONDON—Wives of British miners are not in sympathy with the threatened coal strike. Recently, as part of a demonstration, they paraded through the streets of London. These wives, many of them mothers, fear a strike would mean the starvation of their children.

SEN. HARDING HECKLED

Cheers for Cox at Republican Meeting in South—Speaker Scores Hecklers

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 15.—The administration's attitude toward foreign trade, the Wilson policy in Mexico and the league covenant written at Versailles were the special objectives of Senator Harding's assault on the democratic lines in his campaigning yesterday and last night through the borderland of the "solid south."

Charging that "secret diplomacy," as practiced by democratic officials, had kept American business men from learning of trade opportunities abroad, he declared the state and commerce departments must be reorganized to give more active aid in developing commerce with other nations.

The president's Mexican policy he denounced as having brought distrust in Mexico and humiliation at home, and he advocated a program of amicable relations to insure protection of American interests on Mexican soil without interfering unduly in the internal affairs of the Mexican republic.

In his discussion of the league he reiterated that he wanted no council of foreign powers to dictate, America's part in the world, and, reading Article 10, he told his audiences that as spokesman for the republican party he was "opposed to it."

Reaching here late yesterday he eluded a throng at the railway station by leaving his train at the edge of the town, but he was recognized and cheered by many along the streets and was the centre of a rolling wave of applause wherever he went. Spending the night here, he will turn northward tomorrow for a whirlwind swing through Indiana.

Stigmatizing the state department as representing the "lowest possible ebb of government service" in building foreign commerce, the candidate declared in his speech here tonight that "a complete new policy" was necessary if America was to take a place in international trade. The diplomatic service, he said, had been "demoralized" by the appointment of men, "some of whom had no other qualifications than that of being very large campaign contributors."

"The first task of the nation in working for world peace, he said, was to 'set its face toward an international association under which each may be free to express and maintain its own nationalism, but in which mutual commercial and trade problems may be worked out.' He outlined again his plan to put the nation's foreign loans into negotiable form.

The candidate's Mexican policy first was outlined to a crowd of several thousand who surrounded his car at Somerset, Ky., and was repeated in

SEN. UNDERWOOD IN DEFENCE OF LEAGUE

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—Before an audience of business men in the Boston City club last night Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, father of the Underwood tariff and active in the passage of the federal reserve act, discussed his, the democratic, party's position on the league. He took a "forethought" standpoint, "forethought" a reduction in federal taxes, and replying to the request of President Emeritus Charles W. Eliot of Harvard, to point out "the path of honor" in America's position on the League of Nations, came out with a dispassionate and wholehearted endorsement of the treaty and the covenant.

The Alabama senator predicted that taxes to the extent of perhaps $2,000,000,000 would be lifted from the backs of the American people. He made an exhaustive indictment of the republican party for its failure to pass the federal reserve act in its 50 years of legislation, power and held up for approval the action of the democratic party in passing the measure, over republican opposition for the greater part, only three months after it came into power in 1913.

He emphasized, nevertheless, that the democratic party, never favoring class, expected "wealth as wealth" to be based on a basis equitable with the taxation of articles of consumption. The three panics of 1873, 1893 and 1907 Senator Underwood attributed to the absence of the federal reserve act. For the federal reserve act idea, he said, no party could claim credit, because it had been existent in Europe 75 years before its adoption by the United States. Senator Underwood admitted belonged to the republican Senator Aldrich. But its fundamentals he characterized the bone and fibre of democratic principles. The reason, he said, the republican party failed to pass it, was because it sought to pass control of the country's finances into the hands of powerful banks and was defeated, whereas the democratic party in passing it placed control in the hands of the government, where, he said, it belongs.

The result of the business administration of the democratic party, Senator Underwood went on, left the American dollar a gold dollar after the war, whereas the republican party's depreciation of currency resulted as measured in the gold unit. Even today, he said, business men would prefer the system which is now in effect for the present situation to "the best years of the republican party." He asked whether the working man would like to go back to the pre-war wages in spite of the additional cost of living, and pointed to the disappearance of "the great American tramp" as testimony that this "migratory bird" has found opportunity and that all working men under the democratic party have found the opportunity of employment.

CHANNING COX REFUSES TO DEBATE

ROOSEVELT WOULD DEBATE COOLIDGE

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 15.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic vice presidential nominee, last night challenged Gov. Coolidge, republican candidate for vice president, to a joint debate on the League of Nations, "any time, any place." The challenge was contained in a telegram addressed to Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the democratic national speakers' bureau, which Mr. Roosevelt read before an audience which packed the Coliseum here last night.

Several later speeches. He declared democratic campaign speakers were saying republican victory meant war with Mexico, but added that "this campaign scare will not deceive America a second time." Confidence and tranquility, he said, would result from the program he proposed to inaugurate.

At Louisville, Ky., the senator left his train and was taken to a football field where he made a speech from an improvised wooden stand. Members of the Centre college football team, whose practice was interrupted by his arrival, gave him three cheers and a tiger, and then as the nominee began speaking, another group of students took up the yell with "Cox" substituted for "Harding."

Mr. Harding waited until they had finished, and then shaking a forefinger at the group, shouted: "I like for young fellows to be enthusiastic about their leader, but I want them to be Kentucky gentlemen and not insist on interrupting. I respect the man who has his convictions and I respect my fellow Americans who have other party convictions than I have, but when you are a real American you listen to both sides of the case, especially if the one who is speaking is a candidate for the presidency of the United States."

31 PROMINENT MEN TO SUPPORT HARDING

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—A statement explaining the position in the presidential campaign of 31 prominent men who have advocated some form of international agreement was issued over their signature here last night and announced they would support Senator Harding, the republican nominee.

After renewing the arguments of the two great parties on the league issue the statement concludes: "We therefore believe that we can most effectively advance the cause of international co-operation to promote peace by supporting Mr. Harding for election to the presidency."

The statement bore the following signatures: Lyman Abbott, Robert S. Brookings, president Washington University, St. Louis; Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University; Paul D. Cravath, Charles W. Dabney, University of Cincinnati; William H. P. Faunce, president Brown University; Frank J. HARDING REFUSES TO DEBATE COX

ON BOARD SENATOR HARDING'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Oct. 15.—Republican managers on Senator Harding's train announced definitely late yesterday that the democratic proposal for a League of Nations debate between the republican nominee and Gov. Cox would not be accepted.

Senator Harry S. New, head of the republican speakers' bureau, said he had not yet received the proposal sent him by Senator Pat Harrison, in charge of democratic speaking arrangements, and added:

"I would not for a moment consider a proposition so utterly absurd."

Neither Senator New nor other members of the candidate's immediate party would go into detailed discussion of the subject, but it was said that Senator New's position accorded with that of Senator Harding.

The question of a joint debate is not a new one, although broached formally for the first time, and during the campaign Mr. Harding frequently has told his friends that he did not regard direct debate as a course in

Appoints Sub-Committee to Secure Lower Fares—
Wants Waiting Room

The street railway home rule committee abandoned its attempt to secure a five-cent fare for the Lowell district of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. at its regular monthly meeting late yesterday afternoon, but appointed a committee consisting of Secretary John B. Curtin and Walter Durfee to co-operate with a special chamber of commerce committee in an effort to secure lower fares on the local lines.

The committee also recommended that Manager Thomas Lees take steps to have a store in Merrimack square under the chamber of commerce rooms taken over to be used as a waiting room.

The meeting was called at 4.10 with Mr. Sullivan in the chair as chairman pro tem. Others present were Messrs. Curtin, Wells, Carney, Matthews, Durfee and Hobson, and Manager Thomas Lees and Supt. Vard B. Leavitt of the Lowell district of the Eastern Massachusetts road. Mayor Thompson came in later.

Secretary Curtin read a statement from Homer Loring, chairman of the trustees of the road detailing the receipts and expenditures of the Lowell district during July and August. In July there was a net income of $5,322.32, and in August a deficit of $11,065.31.

Mr. Wells asked why there was an increase of $10,000 in August over July in the cost of operation as it pertained to motormen's and conductors' wages. Mr. Lees said that a certain amount of money was set aside to meet an anticipated increase in wages. Supt. Leavitt said that many new men were broken in on the one-man cars during August, and each of them received a full day's pay while learning. There was also heavy riding on the Lakeview line, he said.

On motion of Mr. Wells it was voted to instruct the secretary to ask the trustees to explain the difference and also state whether the road had set aside any money to meet the recent increase in wages before it actually went into effect.

The trustees should be willing to lay the cards on the table," said Mayor Thompson.

"Undoubtedly they are desirous of doing so," said Manager Lees.

Chairman Sullivan brought up the matter of the five-cent fare proposition. He said he still favored this fare from the square to the city limits.

He didn't wish to "saddle" anything upon the city, he said.

Mr. Wells turned over to the secretary a report of a committee of the chamber of commerce urging the city not to take over the lines of the Lowell district and operate them at a five-cent fare as it would be impractical. There would have to be an increase in riding of 70 per cent if the district were to meet its expenses during the coming year.

Rev. Mr. Matthews asked who would manage the road if the city should take it over.

Mr. Lees said that the present management would continue, as he understood it.

Rev. Mr. Matthews said that he did not feel like endorsing any such proposition, although he didn't wish to reflect on anybody. Mr. Durfee said that the five-cent fare question is about dead.

"The next thing to do is to consider what we can do," he said. "We should appoint a sub-committee to co-operate with the chamber of commerce committee in studying the matter."

Mr. Carney thought that the five-cent fare might be put into effect in short zones. That would bring about a lot of the short-haul riding concerning which so much has been said, he believed.

"It would be impossible to carry people in this city at five cents a head and make ends meet," said Manager Lees.

"Under the present administration, perhaps," said Mr. Matthews, "couldn't we have less trustees—say three instead of five? What would save $10,000?"

"Our salaries have been cut to the limit," said Mr. Lees. "This company has shaved just as far as it can possibly can. It cannot reduce its administration one iota. There isn't any railway company in the country that is more economically administered as far as its executive force is concerned than this company."

"I'm very glad to hear that," said

Rev. Mr. Matthews, "and I hope the public is told about it."

In response to a question from Rev. Mr. Matthews, Mr. Lees said that the company had paid no dividends since 1906.

Mr. Durfee spoke about the prospects of using one-man cars during the winter. Mr. Lees said that a rotary brush device was designed to keep the tracks clear for these cars. In other cities where they have been in operation during the winter it has been reported that they have worked satisfactorily.

Mr. Wells asked how the trustees arrived at their new rate of fares without actually knowing how many people were riding in the city and how many outside the city.

Mr. Lees said that the company had records of the number of tickets sold and cash fares received in the Lowell district.

It was voted to appoint Messrs. Curtin and Durfee as a sub-committee to co-operate with the chamber of commerce to secure lower fares and better service.

Chairman Sullivan asked what rent the company was paying for its quarters in Essex street. Mr. Lees said $30 a month is being paid.

Mr. Sullivan suggested that the store under the office of the chamber of commerce, which is now vacant, be rented and used as a waiting room and for office purposes. The winter is coming on and something should be done, he said.

Rev. Mr. Matthews moved that the committee recommend that the store be rented and used as Mr. Sullivan suggested. The details were left in the hands of Mr. Lees when the motion was carried.

The matter of electing a permanent chairman was brought up and on motion of Mr. Carney, Mr. Sullivan was unanimously elected.

Adjourned at 5.45 p. m.

persecution of Jews, with bloodshed and cruelty, in Poland and Hungary," reported by Morris Rothenberg, chairman of the executive committee of the provisional American Jewish congress who returned here recently from the Jewish world relief conference in Carlsbad. Mr. Rothenberg declares that attacks on Jews in Poland have ceased at no time since the armistice. He says that while anti-Semitic excesses in Poland were mitigated by the protest meetings held in America, "assaults upon persons and property in a smaller degree continued throughout Poland."

"Gradually these assaults assumed larger proportions," said Mr. Rothenberg, "until within the last few months Jews have found it unsafe to walk in the streets. Conditions came to such a state that the Jewish deputies in the Polish parliament appealed to the minister of war and Minister President Witos, who promised that they would take steps to stop these outrages but nothing was done."

Mr. Rothenberg said that during the advance of the soviet armies on Warsaw the Jews readily enlisted in the Polish armies, but that they were attacked and persecuted by the Poles and were given the "most filthy and menial work to perform."

The Jews complained to the military authorities but the persecution was not mitigated, he charged.

"Immediately after the first victories all Jewish soldiers were driven from the various fronts," Mr. Rothenberg asserted, "their ammunition was taken, their uniforms removed and they were put under guard as though they were offenders. The Polish soldiers began to regard the Jewish soldiers as criminals. Every time the Poles took a city they killed Jews who came their way, and numbers of old Jews were shot without trial. The officers in charge afterward said that they killed Bolsheviks. This was a lie. In order to cover these outrages the minister of war issued an announcement that a large number of armed Jewish Bolsheviks were found in many cities. This information was fed only to the Poles and was not mentioned in the dispatches for the outside world because it was apparent that these statements could not be substantiated."

Mr. Rothenberg charges that the Minister of War and Minister President Witos refused to see Jewish delegations who called upon them to complain about anti-Semitic outrages. "The spirit of the Jews in Poland is being utterly crushed by these terrible events and they feel that they cannot much longer bear up unless these terrible excesses are stopped," he added.

According to Mr. Rothenberg, 200 Jews have been murdered in Hungary from December, 1919, to June, 1920, and he charges that the officers and soldiers of the White Army are the chief fomenters of anti-Semitism. He said that the "young nationalists" declared that they were willing to stop the pogroms provided laws were enacted that would destroy the Jews economically.

"This is now being done," said Mr. Rothenberg. "Laws have been passed punishing profiteering by dogging. But the producers are not affected by this law. It is only the middlemen, which means the Jews. Those who are found guilty are dogged and put in concentration camps and exiled."

Outing of Jewish civil service employees in Hungary is also reported by Mr. Rothenberg. "Laws are also being passed specifically directed against the Jews without mentioning them," he said, "as for instance license of all persons engaged in commercial or industrial pursuits are revoked and application must be made for new licenses which may be issued at the discretion of the department in charge. Such licenses are not being granted to Jews, thus utterly preventing them from pursuing their former occupations. A law was passed that only those belonging to military formations as Jews are not allowed to belong to these formations. Jewish students are unable to get into the universities. Many of them have been compelled to go to neighboring countries in order to pursue their studies and are experiencing terrible want and suffering."

BEWITCHING SIMPLICITY IN WILD ROSE FROCK

BY CORA MOORE.
New York's Fashion Authority.
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—There have been petal gowns and petal gowns, attached to a sham top, then a tunic but none of them, even among the cut in scallops that are finished with Paris creations, has been quite so attractive as this wild rose frock that Maude Hanford wears at the Hudson theatre.

And it is so simple. All of taffeta save for some folds of creamy tulle inside the low-cut square neck. Any clever home dressmaker can copy it successfully.

First, there is a straight, narrow underskirt of the taffeta or of tulle, but none of them, even among the cut in scallops that are finished with

EX-SERVICE MEN GET Y. M. C. A. SCHOLARSHIPS

About fifty ex-service men have been granted scholarships by the educational committee of the local Y.M.C.A. within the last three months. The total amount awarded amounts to over $3000. Scholarships were awarded to those men who guaranteed that they would pursue their studies to a successful conclusion, regardless of the service which they had. All were allowed to choose the school and course desired and then the educational committee rendered what assistance it could. According to Secretary Howe, the scholarship money allotted to the local committee has been utilized, but State Director Bumpus will, in all probability, make another allotment to this city so that those men who have not received scholarships already, will be assisted. The committee in charge of the allotment is as follows: A. F. French, chairman; H. P. Howe, secretary; H. J. Ball, C. T. Lipton, C. B. Redway.

DON'T SQUEEZE BLACK-HEADS—DISSOLVE THEM

Squeezing and pinching out blackheads makes the pores large and causes irritation—then, too, after they have become hard you cannot get all of them out. Blackheads are caused by accumulations of dust and dirt and secretions from the skin and there is only one safe and sure way and one that never fails to get rid of them—a simple way, too—that is to dissolve them. Just get from any drug store about two ounces of calomine powder—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—wash off and you'll be surprised to see that every blackhead has disappeared, and the skin will be left soft and the pores in their natural condition—anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should try this simple method.—Adv.

Are Women Naturally Despondent?

A prominent writer so claims. Women are constituted with a delicate organism and in nine cases out of ten mental depression may be attributed to an abnormal condition of the system, which expresses itself in nervousness, sleeplessness, backaches, headaches, causing constant misery and as a result despondency. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a simple remedy made from roots and herbs, is the one great remedy for this condition. It goes to the root of the trouble and overcomes despondency.—Adv.

GIRLS' CLUB PAPER

The first issue of the Girls' Community Service club paper was published yesterday under the name of "Our First Club Paper" and dedicated to Miss Catherine L. Cronin, secretary of the club. The issue contains special departments with articles and pictures.

Between now and January a name contest will be held and the best name for the paper sent in by any club member will be chosen for the paper.

Only a limited number of the first issue were printed. It is possible that a class of journalism may develop from the publication of the club paper and, if so, it will prove one of the most popular in the club. The staff of the paper is as follows: Lillian Allard, editor; Sadie Melancon, business manager; Alice Coyne, assistant business manager; Helen Larour and Ethel Dickson, recreation department; Lillian Renaud, Gertrude McCrosson, community service activities; Anna Koller and Anna Pollard, classes; Ethel Winslow, Gladys Paige, social activities; Beatrice Hession, Cathryn O'Neil, humorous section.

THE GRAND CANYON

"The Grand Canyon of Colorado" was the subject of an illustrated lecture given late yesterday afternoon and last evening before the students of the Bartlett school by Col. C. H. French. The lecture proved very instructive, while the scenes shown on the screen were very interesting. Col. French will speak this afternoon at the Morey and Washington schools next Monday at the Pawtucket, Tuesday at the Moody and Varnum and on Wednesday, Nov. 24 at the Lincoln school.

CONFESSION OF "CRANK" MADE PUBLIC

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—District Attorney Remlinger yesterday gave out a confession which he said had been written by Augustus Pasquale, "The Crank," describing the kidnapping and smothering of 13-month-old Blakey Coughlin.

The confession says Pasquale was in Morrisdown last May to raid telephone pay stations and while walking along the road heard a baby crying and saw three mothers put it to sleep. Then Pasquale conceived the idea of stealing the child for ransom.

A few nights later, he returned to the Coughlin house and entered the baby's room by means of a ladder. When the child started to cry he wrapped a coat around it, took it down the ladder, and after walking about three-quarters of a mile he sat down to look at the baby and found him dead.

"I killed him by holding him too tight around my breast a little too long," the confession said. "So not knowing what to do with him, then I didn't want to put him in the ground and worms to touch him. So I took him to the river and sat there by the track with the boy in my lap until I saw daylight coming. Then not daring to hold him any longer, I tied him with a string that I found on a wagon in the stone quarry nearby to a piece of rail that was also in the quarry. Then I threw him in the river."

The confession said Pasquale had to wait until the newspapers came out with the story and kidnapping before he could learn the name of the child's parents and write a letter to them for money.

"I can't find a name strong enough for myself," the confession continued. Pasquale wrote he had no intention of harming the baby, and that he would have returned the child even if he did not receive any money.

"But I'm his murderer, I killed him," the statement concluded.

RUSSIA'S COTTON INDUSTRY DESTROYED

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Russia's great pre-war cotton industry has suffered to such an extent during the revolution that it is doubtful whether many of the mills ever will be able to operate again, says Charles Macara, an English authority in the world's cotton trade, in an interview in the Yorkshire Post.

Based upon information obtained from an Englishman who recently returned from Russia, where for 14 years he was the manager of a large cotton factory near Moscow, Sir Charles estimates that of the 9,000,000 spindles running in Russia before the revolution not more than 200,000 or 300,000 are now operating.

The experiences of the English manager of the Moscow factory were told as an example of the methods employed by revolutionists in dealing with one of Russia's great industrial assets, the textile factories in the Moscow district. This particular mill carried on all the finished product, spinning to the finished product, 17,000 workers having been employed under normal operating conditions.

When the Bolsheviks assumed power the whole cotton industry was nationalized. At every mill committees were formed and finally, in October, 1919, a decree was issued that all who had been connected with the former owners would have to leave. With no experts gone, the mill stopped. After a time attempts were made to re-start it, but it was almost impossible to obtain raw cotton. Small quantities were obtained, which after being diluted with 75 per cent. waste, was put through the processes.

The machinery now is in a very bad state. In such a state, in fact, that it would be almost impossible to operate the factory properly, according to the information given. Sir Charles. Whenever machines are damaged, other machines are denuded of parts to repair them.

Sir Charles stated that there was little possibility of English workmen going to Russia for employment in textile factories. Mills in Germany and Austria were turning out only from 25 to 30 per cent. of the normal production, he said, and English workers faced the almost impossible task of making up for the four and a half years' stoppage of textile manufacture owing to the war.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

United States Entry Cannot Be Decided By November Election, Says World Peace Foundation

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—The trustees of the world peace foundation, the million-dollar endowment established in 1910 by the late Edwin Ginn, have unanimously adopted a declaration that American entry into the League of Nations cannot be decided by the November election. The statement says:

"The problem of the organization of the world for peace is greater than any man or any body of men. Although the ratification of the treaty of Versailles, with or without reservations, was prevented by the failure of the president and the senate to agree, nevertheless, whatever political party may come into power, it will find that the interest, the conscience and the sense of duty of the American people will require the nation to take its part in the essential work of establishing and preserving the peace of the world. The world peace foundation was created to promote the organization of the world for the prevention of war. The trustees of this foundation believe that the only way of achieving that result is by joining the existing League of Nations, with such modifications, if any, as the wisdom of our statesmen may think proper for the welfare of the United States. We have assurance that foreign governments will welcome the United States with any such modifications as it may think necessary."

The board of trustees includes both democrats and republicans. Their declaration is signed by William H. P. Faunce, president of Brown university; George W. Anderson, Sarah Louise Arnold, Professor George H. Hakeslee of Clark university; Stephen Pierce Duggan, President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard, former Governor Samuel W. McCall of Massachusetts; Bliss Perry, Albert E. Pillsbury, Geo. A. Plimpton and Joseph Swain, and Edward Cummings, general secretary.

The Public Be Pleased!

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the P&Q Organization, the following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS it is important that all merchants assist to reestablish normal prices, and

WHEREAS it has always been the policy of the P&Q Organization to lead in all movements for business betterment, and

WHEREAS it is evident that woolen prices show a downward tendency for Spring and we may be able to replace our goods at somewhat lower prices, therefore be it—

RESOLVED that in keeping with a spirit of cooperation with the public demands, we have decided to take our loss now and sell all our goods at next years prices, and that the President be instructed to so notify the managers of all stores.

The above telegram explains a further reduction of $5 on every P&Q garment—this is the second $5 reduction in a short time—as P&Q Clothes have always sold for $10 less than others. This additional $10 reduction means that you can buy your Suit or Overcoat at a price so low now that there is no chance of it going any lower.

The prices of P&Q Clothes—quality considered—are always lower than the reduced prices of other clothes. Our factory statistics prove that we are now manufacturing and selling clothes actually at about cost, holding faithfully to a square deal policy with the public, as well as our force of help.

This Downward Revision is now on in every P&Q Shop. The thousands of men who are going to buy P&Q Clothes this Fall will know and appreciate that nowhere in this great land can clothes of P&Q Sterling Quality be bought at so low a price.

HERE ARE A FEW PRICE EXAMPLES THAT WILL EMPHASIZE THE STRENGTH OF OUR REVISION—which is further supplemented by a group of garments from our surplus factory stock. The demand will be unprecedented, because the values are wonderful! We urge early selection!

Everybody Helps

"QUICK," CRIED DR. MINK, "LET ME HAVE YOUR SCISSORS."

Meadow Grove school and say his piece because company was there, he couldn't budge. Why? Because he'd sat down on his chewing gum. But nobody knew it, certainly not Mr. Scribble Scratch, the fairy schoolmaster.

"Yes, yes!" cried everybody eagerly, will you please go and measure the highest corn-stalk in the sweet patch, pick the largest grain of corn, and bring it here?"

Judge Crow agreed at once and flew right out.

Mr. Double U. Chuck was sent for saffron root, and off he went.

Scamper Squirrel was to hunt the least prickly chestnut burr he could find. Cattle Cottontail was to get a lettuce leaf.

Flop Fieldmouse was to bring a wheat-stalk, Stuff Mole, some snow, and Chip Chimmunk, buckwheat, Star and Spider and Freddie Frog were to bring a fly apron if they could find any—not counting Ruddy Blue Bottle.

Pretty soon Meadow Grove School was as empty as if it were Saturday, except for Nancy, Dr. Mink, and poor Markie Muskrat himself.

"Quick," cried Dr. Mink when the last pupil had disappeared. "Let me have scissors, Nancy!"

Nancy handed them over, and snip, snip, snip! Markie was free at last.

NURSES FOR POOR FAMILIES

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—A movement to build up an adequate body of nursing attendants to serve at moderate wages in homes where outside care is needed in cases of sickness but where means are lacking to pay trained nurses, has been started in this city. The Household Nursing Association is offering women from twenty to forty-five years of age a carefully planned course which it describes as designed to prepare them "for the care of sickness in the home and the care of the home during sickness."

New classes are formed every seven weeks. The expense for the training is small. The course extends over a period of seven months, beginning with study of the care of the house, marketing, cooking, dietetics and nursing. After this preliminary work the students are sent to co-operating hospitals for four months, receiving actual training and experience in the care of patients. After this care of a mother and baby is then learned in a maternity hospital.

When the course is completed the students are given case work under supervision of a trained nurse for six months. If their work has proved satisfactory they are then given diplomas and are permitted to work independently. Through a registry system the association is able to provide constant employment for graduates of the course.

TO CLOSE FORT VAUX AT VERDUN

PARIS, Oct. 15.—A lesson to tourists too anxious to take away with them souvenirs of the battlefront has just been given by the military authorities of Fort Vaux at Verdun which has hitherto been open to visitors to Verdun. The authorities have decided to close the fort indefinitely. A few days ago a tourist took possession, doubtless as a souvenir, of an electric lamp bulb. He was indiscreet enough to make a fourth of the bulb in a Verdun safe. The military authorities confiscated the bulb and then came the order making the fort "out-of-bounds" to visitors.

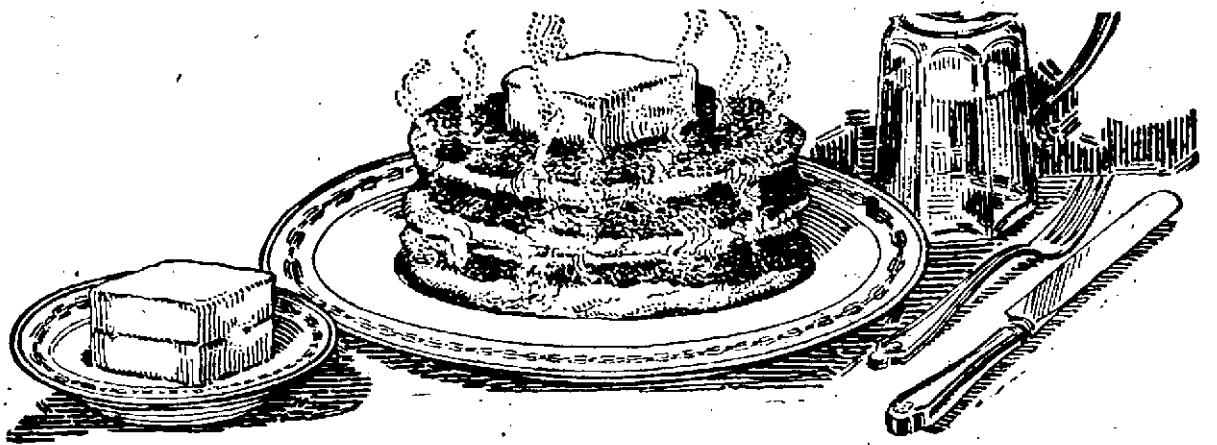

AMERICAN WOMAN ARABIAN CAPTAIN

NEW YORK—Word has been received here by Red Cross officials that Miss Anna Fisher of New York, formerly a Red Cross worker in France, and who is now with the Near East Relief Workers in Syria, has been made a full-fledged captain in the Arabian Army of Prince Feisal, at Damascus. Miss Fisher is in charge of the industrial education of women and children in Damascus. Although the French have deposed Prince Feisal, the prince's Arabian army is said to be virtually intact.

for people of taste

To make griddle cakes tender use Kingnut in the batter; to bring out their good flavor spread it on them generously.

A War Lesson and its Sequel

In war-ridden Europe, where fats were not to be had at any price, margarin saved countless thousands of lives.

Here at home, millions of patriotic Americans learned the wholesome nourishment of margarin, and have naturally continued a delightful habit.

For once you try Kingnut on toast or griddle cakes, you would never think of giving it up even if it were not such a great economy. It is delicious, pure, and high in calories; fine in texture, and always uniform.

If you could see the spotless kitchens in which Kingnut is made, it would add to your delight in its taste. Pure vegetable oils and pasteurized milk—that is Kingnut.

FIGHT AGAINST LEPROSY AND TUBERCULOSIS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Refined chaulmoogra oil which experts of the government public health service say has arrested the progress of leprosy is soon to be used by them in the fight against tuberculosis. The experiments with tubercular patients will be conducted in Hawaii.

Dr. T. J. McDonald, superintendent physician of the leprosy investigation station at Kalahe, will start the fight against tuberculosis at the same time continuing their work against leprosy.

No concrete result of the use of the chaulmoogra oil in tubercular cases has yet been reported to the headquarters of the public health service here, but from their investigations with tubercular bacilli isolated from a patient, Dr. McDonald and Dean have hopes of successful treatment of patients themselves.

The bacilli of leprosy and tuberculosis, according to government scientists, have been found to have similar characteristics, and the fatty acids of chaulmoogra oil seemingly have proved poisonous to the leprosy bacillus. This is the basis for the scientific hope that these acids likewise will be deadly to the germ of the "white plague."

Dr. McDonald has not yet made any formal report of his work with the tubercular germs to officials here, but unofficial reports from Honolulu quote him as saying that scientists at the University of California have discovered that the fatty acids of chaulmoogra oil are bactericidal to an acid-fast bacillus, in which class are the leprosy and tuberculosis bacilli. The inference, according to the doctor, is that what has been done to end the dread of leprosy may possibly be repeated to relieve the world of tuberculosis.

The public health service maintains a tubercular hospital in Hawaii separate from its leprosy stations, and the experiments with tuberculosis are to be conducted at the former. Health officials here refrain from any prediction of results, but express hope that chaulmoogra oil will prove a specific for curing tuberculosis.

DOOR KEYS UNDER BAN

Considered Unnecessary in the Bolshevik Scheme of Life Now in Vogue in Russia

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Door keys are considered unnecessary in the Bolshevik scheme of life in Russia. Only privileged persons are supposed to possess them.

When The Associated Press correspondent who recently crossed Russia asked for a doorway in one of the nationalized hotels at Omsk he was informed by the hotel "commissar," formerly the owner, that under the red regime doors are not supposed to be bolted.

An appeal to the Omsk Bolshevik commandant resulted in the American correspondent obtaining an official document granting him a key and the privilege of locking the door of his room.

Lady Montague and Nettie Adler, Jewesses, have been appointed city magistrates of the greater City of London.

NEW INFORMATION BUREAU AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Information regarding any activity in which the government is interested will be furnished to the general public through the information service section of the United States bureau of efficiency here, according to an announcement from the bureau. The information service is an outgrowth of the act and the bureau's investigation into the duplication of work in government departments, undertaken at the direction of congress.

If you are interested for instance the primitive condition of prehistoric man, in present day activities in agriculture, education or commerce, desire to know where to apply for the classification and biology of the corn-leaf beetle, write the bureau efficiency, information section, for an announcement said. "The section will document granting him a key and the privilege of locking the door of his room."

Will This Make the Fair Sex Forget the Political Game?

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 15.—Every woman, be she a staunch republican or a dyed-in-the-wool democrat, is expected to fall for the latest American gown—the Harding campaign gown which was exhibited by the Fashion Art League, held in September at the Auditorium and Congress hotels, Chicago.

This gown is named for Mrs. Warren G. Harding, wife of the republican nominee for president of the United States, and was designed by Madame Alla Ripley, president of the league. It is, as its creator says, "An American gown for American women."

American Material

The material is all American made, the wool, a brown Tuscarora cloth from American woolen mills and the brown satin from American silk mills.

The gown is made with the long lines that give slenderness to the most robust figure, is cut in Redingote style and worn over a brown satin slip. The neck is slightly low in front, cut square and a collar either of metallic ribbon or white lace may be worn with the gown. The sleeves are long and are made of the brown satin, and the embroidery which adorns the front is done with silk floss, and wooden beads in dull green, copper, dull blue and black.

An All-Day Gown

"This gown," says its creator, "is one that may be worn on the street, at luncheon, the matinee, on the train, at an informal dinner or an afternoon tea and yet allow the wearer to be perfectly gowned." In other words, it is an all-day gown. And to complete it is a jacket coat for winter wear. This jacket is knee length and is embroidered to match the gown in the shoulders. It is lined with brown caracul fur and has a small collar of the same fur.

As American women do not go in for extremes, the gown is only nine inches from the floor—a modest length.

FINLAND AND POLAND IN SECRET AGREEMENT

RIGA, Oct. 14.—(By Associated Press)—Political discussion has been excited throughout the Baltic states by the arrival in this city of Hjalmar Holsti, Finnish minister of foreign affairs, to conduct negotiations with M. Dombalski, head of the Polish peace mission which reached a preliminary peace agreement with soviet Russia late last week. His arrival is looked upon as confirmation of insistent rumors that Finland and Poland have made a secret agreement that neither will complete a separate peace with the Bolsheviks until the two countries reach a perfect understanding, and lay the foundation for a Baltic union, in which the two countries will be the backbone.

Letvia, Estonia and Lithuania, being smaller than Finland and Poland have regarded them with suspicion and Poland's aggressive action against Lithuania has added to this distrust. The three small countries, however, are so fearful of the Bolsheviks that they realize they cannot stand alone, and it seems likely that the organization of a Baltic union will be effected soon.

Lithuanians are greatly agitated by the announcement by Polish authorities that two Polish regiments are moving against Vilna to dislodge General Zeligowski and his troops, the action of whom in occupying Vilna has been disavowed by the Warsaw government. Lithuanians claim these additional troops are merely reinforcements and they are panicky over the movement of troops, said to be Polish, from Vilna along the railway toward the Latvian frontier.

Lithuanians also are uneasy and have mobilized troops along the border to resist the "outlaw" Polish troops, should they attempt to cross. Entente officials are exercised over the attitude of the forces in Vilna which are said to have insulted the League of Nations commission and prevented it from entering the city.

MARSHALL DECLARES HARDING OUT OF ORDER

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 15.—If Senator Harding were debating in the senate the way he has talked on the League of Nations, he might be ruled out of order, according to Vice President Marshall.

Describing in an address here last night his idea of the alarm of the league opponents that Senator Harding was going to endorse the league, the vice president said:

"I do not know—that is, I cannot prove what happened—but I do know lots of things I can't prove. I think they went to Marion. And they didn't talk to Mr. Harding on the front porch. They took him inside and pulled down the blinds and asked him 'Where are you on this League of Nations?'"

"And then the senator began to talk. He talked and he talked. If he had been debating in the senate and I had been presiding, I would have ruled him out of order."

CAN'T BLAME BURLESON FOR THIS

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—A postcard mailed 17 years ago was delivered recently 12 miles from the place where it was dropped in a letter box. The man who sent it received it, having acquired the position formerly held by the original addressee.

Frank O'Keefe, the sender, was surveying the Harlem river in September, 1903, for the department of docks. One evening he sent the card, reporting his work, to the superintendent. Later, O'Keefe, through a series of promotions, became superintendent of docks. When the postcard ended its prolonged travels several days ago, it was delivered to him.

F. A. VANDERLIP SPEAKS

Until Interruption Caused by War is Repaired Millions Face Starvation

SOUTH HADLEY, Oct. 15.—The need for an enlightened and broad visioned citizenship which would look on the progress of civilization in the large, instead of being concerned only with domestic conditions, was stressed by Frank A. Vanderlip of New York in the Founders' Day address at Mt. Holyoke college today. "Until the interruption caused by the great war is repaired," the speaker said, "millions of people will be on the verge of starvation. This has great significance, as economic causes are among the chief causes of war; economic pressure has furnished the reason for most revolutions. "While the economic pressure resulting from a disorganization of world trade will fall with far greater severity on some peoples than on others, I believe that the countries of

Held in Plot to Destroy Cotton Gins

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 15.—Eight white farmers have been arrested near Bald Knob, White county, charged with conspiring to destroy cotton gins that refused to obey warnings to close until the price of cotton reaches 40 cents a pound. Deputy Sheriff Plant said that all eight had confessed and implicated others. He said many additional arrests were expected.

Sugar Company and Directors Indicted

POCATELLO, Idaho, Oct. 15.—The Utah-Idaho Sugar Co., and eight of its directors have been indicted by the federal grand jury on charge of violating the Lever act.

the world today are so closely inter-related that none can escape disagreeable consequences while any considerable part of the world is undergoing a life and death struggle with unfavorable economic conditions. If ever there was a country prepared to isolate itself, and live to itself alone that country is the United States. But it seems to me impossible that the United States would go forward if much of the rest of the world was being mangled by economic maladjustment. "A policy of 'little America' or, as those who advocate it prefer to call it, 'America first' sounds like a patriotic policy. It may have its roots in a fine sentiment of love for our country. But I believe it is a short-sighted policy and one that lacks a fine vision of the future."

SOPHIE'S DEBORAH GREAT PRODUCER

At the age of 2 years and 8 months Sophie's Deborah, 313559 made her first appearance in the register of merit. Her record just completed is her third consecutive record. This test was begun at the age of 5 years and 2 months. She produced 14,310.6 pounds milk, 515 pounds fat, and it is interesting to note that she has increased her production each year in both milk and fat. Deborah is still a young cow, just reaching the prime of life. Her production on her next record will be watched with interest, for the way she has been producing indicates that she should be a strong contender for the thousand-pound class in the future.

Her sire, Poole's 39th of Hood farm 94502, is one of the four bulls having the distinction of winning both gold and silver medals for ability to transmit extreme production to their offspring. Poole's 39th has 65 daughters and three sons in the register of merit. He is one of the Jersey breed's most potent sires. He is out of the champion long distance cow of all breeds, Sophie 18th of Hood farm 133718, which averaged 706 pounds butter fat in nine consecutive records.

The dam of Sophie's Deborah is Lass 66th of Hood farm 211395. Lass 66th has three official records of merit tests that average 15,000 pounds milk, 716 pounds fat. Lass 66th is the champion senior three-year-old cow of the Jersey breed. She was the first Jersey to produce 2000 pounds milk in one month. Sophie's Deborah's pedigree is filled with red ink, as she comes from an unbroken line of high producers. Deborah was bred and tested by Hood farm.

SOCIALIST MEETINGS WILL BE PERMITTED

NEW LONDON, Conn., Oct. 15.—After refusal by the police, under the mayor's orders to allow speakers of the socialist labor party to address a night crowd last night, Mayor E. Frank Hogan changed his attitude and without giving a reason, today indicated that future meetings would not be interfered with. The speakers made no attempt to hold the street meeting although protesting at the police order. No arrests were made. The mayor did not make clear whether or not the advertised socialist party meeting which was being arranged to test the validity of his ruling on Sunday night, would be allowed.

Great Britain is planning to spend nearly $600,000,000 on war veterans during the fiscal year, 1920-21.

HARDING CONTINUES TO ASSAIL LEAGUE

ON BOARD SENATOR HARDING'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Oct. 15.—In a trip through southern Indiana today, Senator Harding continued his warfare against the Versailles League of Nations, and asked for "a return to the constitution" through the election of a republican administration and a republican congress.

Leaving Louisville this morning, he was to reach Indianapolis during the afternoon after numerous short stops for speeches from the rear platform. Tonight he will speak in the Indiana capital and tomorrow night will wind up his trip with a speech in St. Louis. Among the senator's guests on his train were Senator James M. Watson and several republican nominees for congress and he spoke for the election of each of them, telling his crowds that if they were to have a republican president, it would be better to make a clean job of it and choose a congress that would co-operate with him. He praised Senator Watson's record of service, declaring his to be one of the most useful of the men in national public life.

SAYS MACSWINEY MAY DIE ANY MINUTE

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The officials of the Irish Self-Determination League, which sends out reports regarding the condition of Lord Mayor MacSwiney in Brixton prison, have made an announcement on American press reports that some of the New York physicians regard a 60-day fast as humanly impossible.

They reiterate their denial, however, that he is receiving nourishment of any kind. The league officials declined yesterday to speculate on the time the mayor may yet be able to hold out, merely saying: "He might die any minute, or, on the other hand, he might survive several days."

Mrs. MacSwiney continues to make her customary three-hour visit each evening to her husband's bedside.

TO STABILIZE DUTCH FINANCIAL AFFAIRS

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 14.—Efforts to stabilize Dutch financial affairs are being made, following another drop in stock quotations today, but some financiers express the opinion that there are no signs that the low mark in prices had been reached. The stocks most seriously affected were Havana Sugar and Royal Dutch Petroleum, which sank, respectively to 560 and 729, but American exchange was somewhat easier.

Former Minister of Finance Troob advocates that Holland pay gold to America for coal delivered here in order that the price may be reduced and German coal prices forced down to an equivalent level.

WORKED ALL NIGHT ON FIRE ON DUMP

Members of hose company 10 were called to the dump in the rear of the Lowell Textile school last evening shortly after 6 o'clock and so stubborn was the blaze that the men were kept on the job until this morning at 3 o'clock when a second shift replaced the men who had worked all night. At 1 o'clock this afternoon the men were still on the job. At 7:25 o'clock last night an alarm from box 23 summoned a portion of the department to the rear of the Farragut house in Central street for a slight blaze in a shed. There was little damage.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Frederick Kingsbury and Miss Mary Claus were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, 34 West Sixth street, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Earl F. Meister of the Centralville M.E. church. At the close of the ceremony the couple left on a honeymoon trip to the White mountains.

Establishment—Olson
The marriage of Mr. Albert E. Estabrook and Miss Mae A. Olson took place Oct. 11, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Chauncey J. Hawkins, at his home, 122 Fairmount street. The best man was Mr. Albert Olson, a brother of the bride, while the bridesmaid was Miss Grace Estabrook, a sister of the groom. The couple will make their home in this city.

TEMPERANCE INSTITUTE

Mathew Temperance Institute Celebrates the Anniversary of Fr. Mathew

With appropriate exercises the Mathew Temperance Institute last evening celebrated the anniversary of Rev. Fr. Mathew, the apostle of temperance, for which the institute is named.

Two speakers were Rev. D. J. Keleher, Ph.D., who gave a sketch of the life of Fr. Mathew and the organization of the Mathew Institute in Lowell; Daniel J. Donahue, Esq., who dealt particularly with the Irish question and the justice of Ireland's claims; Edward F. Slattery, an old time temperance worker and friend of the society, who drew upon his experience as prohibition officer to show the great need of work such as is being done by the Mathew Institute.

Rev. Dr. Keleher:

Arthur M. Flaherty was chairman of the meeting and after making a few introductory remarks he introduced Rev. Dr. Keleher, whose remarks were in part as follows: "I think it is a good time to revise some of our thoughts of Father Mathew. Some people thought that when prohibition came in there would be no need of a temperance society, but unfortunately there seems to be more need now than ever before. There is more drinking while drunk, more drunkenness among young men than when we had the open saloon. I am not speaking against prohibition, but simply mentioning facts." He then urged those present to bring in more members and spoke of the poisonous effects of the liquor which is being produced nowadays. "Tonight," he said, "we are holding the 33rd Lowell celebration of the birth of the apostle of temperance, who for the love of Christ taught people to lead temperate lives. He was born in 1790, 130 years ago, in Ireland and died in 1855, just 65 years ago, in Ireland. My father and mother took the pledge from Father Mathew and I know many other people who were acquainted with Father Mathew. He went to a college near Dublin where many Irish priests are trained, but decided to become a Franciscan monk and so joined them. He was ordained when 24 years old by Archbishop Murray and later served in Kilkenny for one year and then in Cork for 24 years. He later became Provincial of his order in Ireland, serving for 23 years and then became head of the Diocese of Cork. He was very zealous and lived among the people, organizing schools, industrial clubs, societies for savings to help people pay their rents, and doing everything to help the poor people. On April 10, 1838, the first meeting of the Cork Total Abstinence society was held. About 60 people attended, but later membership grew into the millions all over Ireland and in 1849 Father Mathew came to America and stayed here two years." Dr. Keleher then urged all members to abhor strong drink and its frightful consequences and to spread the spirit and faith of Father Mathew.

D. J. Donahue, Esq.

Daniel J. Donahue then spoke in part as follows: "He has become very evident even to the most casual student of the matter that the Irish question has been deliberately distorted and misrepresented to America by the agencies of British Imperial rule. That the founders of the Irish Republic, as the representatives of the great majority of the Irish people, are solidly within their rights, politically, morally, economically and racially, cannot be questioned by any normal American who believes in the principles on which this republic rests. If the demands and aspirations of the Irish people are identical with the principles and politics of this republic, if they ask for the things we possess and without which we believe our experiment in free government would be a failure, then the struggle of the Irish to attain national independence is not only righteous and holy, but worthy of American sympathy and support; and opposition to it is virtually treason to American principles. The only difference is, that prior to the revolution, America was a British colony and willingly so, but Ireland has never acknowledged the rule of England and has submitted only to force—the conqueror's might. The justification for Irish action lies in the Bill of Rights of the state of Massachusetts."

Mr. Donahue then took up the provisions of the Bill of Rights, comparing the rights demanded by the American colonies of England with the rights which are now being demanded of England by Ireland.

"These are the rights demanded by the Irish people and denied them by the British government, which today in the unhappy land, is merely organized misgovernment, immorality, injustice and oppression more cruel and odious than that imposed by the Turks in Armenia, or any charge made against the Prussian in Belgium. Any American who denies the absolute justice of the demands of the Irish people is a poor American citizen, an enemy of democracy and human freedom. There is little in history that makes Ireland great, no great increase in population, no sabbats in world waters, no army; it is the virtue of her women and the valor of her men, her fidelity to God's laws and that fighting spirit that 700 years of sorrow and suffering could not subdue. It is the spirit that animates the Irish that animated the patriots at Lexington and Concord, which enabled the patriots' force with bloody feet to brave the terrors of Valley Forge; which battered down the walls of the Bastille, which swept away the Stuarts.

It is the spirit of liberty, the spirit that burned in the breasts of Emmet and Wolfe Tone, Smith O'Brien and Henry Grattan; which fired the hearts of Lafayette and Rochambeau, that ruled the lives of Washington and Lincoln, the glorious spirit that makes men free, the glorious spirit that spurs the mind, strengthens the arm, and fires the heart of every true son of Ireland."

Edward F. Slattery

Prohibition Officer Slattery then addressed the members and, as an old member of the society he reviewed the trials of the local branch and urged the present members to increase their membership. He said that in 1887 the institute had 700 members and that the present membership was far below what it should be for a city the size of Lowell. He spoke of the intemperance evil as connected with his police court experiences and urged the boys to take up some trade or further schooling and not to give up all their time to dancing, bowling, playing pool or wasting their time at cards and other frivolous amusements.

The entertainers were as follows: Albert Forrest, pianist; Martin H. McGuire, Edward Donahue, John Doyle, Joseph M. Reilly, William Mahoney and John Keefe soloists. Mr. Keefe rendered "At Steve O'Donnell's Wake," an odyssey composed by the president of the C.Y.M.L. Refreshments were served and smokes were passed during the evening.

GENERALS HAAN AND SHANKS AT DEVENS

AYER, Oct. 15.—Major General W. G. Haan, chief of the war plans and training section of the general staff, and Major General David C. Shanks, commanding the first army corps area with headquarters at Boston, visited Camp Devens today to obtain reports on the educational and recreational work in the area and to put into effect new ideas for stimulating these activities. They addressed a meeting of army and civilian instructors who were gathered here from various posts and stations in New England for a two days' session.

Generals Haan and Shanks arranged to greet at the finish of their long ride at Camp Devens this afternoon the contestants in the 300-mile cavalry endurance run.

INDIANS ANGRY

Protest Political Use of Their Letterhead

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Two members of the advisory committee of the Society of American Indians have resigned because the society letterhead is being used to carry republican propaganda.

In letters addressed to Thomas G. Bishop, secretary and treasurer of the Society of American Indians, Washington, Henry Roe Cloud, a Winnebago, president of the Roe Institute at Wichita, Kas., and Congressman C. D. Carter, a Choctaw Indian of Oklahoma, declare material signed by Mr. Bishop and calling for "the election of a senate that will protect the United States against the democratic progress of internationalism" were sent out under a specially printed letterhead of the society.

BIG INCREASE IN BANK DEPOSITS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Bank deposits in the United States increased $4,045,164,000 during the year ended last June 30, according to statements yesterday by Comptroller of the Currency Williams. Loans and discounts increased $5,803,736,900.

Total resources of all reporting banks in the United States, including federal reserve banks, were given in the comptroller's statement at $52,079,108,000. These included national banks, state banks, savings banks, trust companies and reporting private banks, but the total given did not include $124,516,000 rediscouunts of the national banks.

The capital, surplus and profits of all banks were reported at $5,253,953,000, an increase since June 30, 1919, of $515,503,900.

The famous French war decoration, the Croix de Guerre, was instituted as a medal for the world war only.

COX DENOUNCES MOTLEY ARRAY

Greatest Array of Questionable Groups on Record Behind Harding

Survey of Array Brings Blush of Humiliation to an American—Names Groups

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 15.—Vigorous array of the forces he declared were in the opposition ranks was made here last night by Gov. Cox, speaking at the capital in his home state campaign.

That Sen. Harding, his republican opponent, has behind him "the most motley array of questionable groups and influences that ever were behind a candidate—an array that to survey brings the crimson blush of humiliation to an American" was asserted by the democratic presidential candidate.

List of "Motley Array"

Characterizing the various groups named as "parties," Gov. Cox asserted that among Sen. Harding's supporters were the following:

"The reactionary party."

"The pro-German party—whose members opposed our successful prosecution of the war."

"The Italian party, whose members place a futile Italian imperialism over the interests of this nation."

"The 'low wage' party, an organization with a definite understanding that wages must come down."

"The suppression party, whose members say or believe that every bit of progressive thought is to be choked."

"The Greek party and the Bulgarian party, with a common purpose to punish those who considered the welfare of the world—superior to the claims of nationalistic ambition."

"The Bayonet party, which believes martial law is a solvent for all industrial disputes."

"The National Isolation party, whose object is to secure autocratic position in the world and whose creed is selfishness."

"The Liberty Bond Speculators' party, now arranging a sudden coup—to prejudice of the taxpayers."

"The Anti-Federal Reserve Act party."

"The Profiteer party—which seeks—to escape payment of tax on incomes swollen by war profits."

"The Anti-League of Nations party, possessing a perfect understanding with Senator Harding that he is to scuttle every plan looking to international peace."

"The munitions making party, an organization with a vast propaganda fund—ready and eager to embroil the world in fresh wars."

"The Afro-American party, whose hyphenated activity has attempted to stir up troubles among the negroes upon false claims that it can bring social equality."

Says G.O.P. "Sold Out"

With these arrangements, Gov. Cox said he had not made a complete list of the opposition forces, but said that Sen. Harding was the candidate of "more than a dozen groups working through the present reactionary republican leadership." That the party had been "sold to these several designing parties to be prostituted for this campaign," was asserted by the governor. The governor said:

"The campaign for the presidency of the United States has now reached the point where it is possible definitely to get fair appraisal of the forces that are aligned on either side behind the candidates. It is well to take stock of these forces and to assess them at their real worth, patriotic or unpatriotic, to measure them as history will measure them, and to assay them in the light of pretensions to a monopoly on Americanism."

"In general, it is not seemly to question the forces arrayed behind one's leading opponent, but I deem this to be an instance in which there is a right to examine them carefully, and I say this because I have had no hesitancy in granting to my opponent full and free opportunity to examine the forces and influences behind my own candidacy. My nomination came in the open convention, as the result of the free choice of delegates there assembled. I was not nominated at any 2:11 a. m. conference in a smoky back room of a hotel suite, and I am perfectly willing that the forces endorse."

ing my candidacy be examined and compared with those behind the reactionary candidate as part of the issue of this campaign.

"I am, however, more interested in the groups of forces that have been aligned rather than the individuals themselves.

Would Make American Blush

"With this preliminary I assert candidly, rather with sympathy and compassion, rather almost with blame for some of those who profess to be Americans, that the candidate of the senatorial ring has behind him today the most motley array of questionable groups and influences that ever were behind a candidate—an array that to survey brings the crimson blush of humiliation to an American, and an assortment of influences that he must begin immediately after the election to repudiate should the unthinkable thing of a reactionary victory darken the happy prospects of a victorious and proud America.

"I assert upon the results of a canvass of these United States from the Atlantic to the Pacific that the reactionary forces do not place dependence for success upon one party—the historic republican party which the evil influences of 1912 have again captured, and of which they are in full possession.

"I affirm that Senator Harding is the candidate of more than a dozen groups working through the present reactionary republican leadership. I assert and so advise the American people that the party once led by Abraham Lincoln has been sold to these several designing parties to be prostituted for this campaign. I do this so that the sober thinking elements of all parties may know of the uses to which the republican organization has been put that they may repudiate those who have made of their temple a den of disrepute in the attempt to evade the issue of the League of Nations, and distract the public mind from our unswerving support of peace and progress.

Inventory of Groups

"I shall inventory the strangely heterogeneous parties that are arrayed behind the candidate of the senatorial group seeking to annex the presidency:

"First, there is the reactionary party of this country. Then there is the German party, the party whose members oppose our successful prosecution of the war, and have sympathy and aid to the despot Kaiser, the party whose heart would leap with joy were this monster of militarism by some strange prank of fate restored to power. Then there is the Italian party, whose members place a futile Italian imperialism over the interests of this nation and over and above the peace of the world. There is the 'low wage' party, an organization with a definite understanding that the wages must come down to the levels of 1896 or 1908. I have encountered personally many members of this party. Then there is the suppression party, whose members say or secretly believe that every bit of progressive thought is to be choked by denying all classes of liberals' the right to express themselves. There is the Greek party and the Bulgarian party, with diverse aims but a common purpose to punish those who considered the welfare of the world as rising superior to the claims of nationalistic ambition. There is the Bayonet party, which believes martial law is a solvent for all industrial disputes. I have encountered its members, too, and they are thick upon the muster rolls of Will H. Hays' 'money diggers.' Then there is the Atavistic party, going back to the economic fantasy that the 'foreigner pays the tax.'

"I assert that Senator Harding is backed by the National Isolation party, whose object is to secure autocratic position in the world and whose creed is selfishness. This party would prevent the opening of the eyes of the oppressed peoples of the world in the court of world public and deny to Egypt, South Africa and Ireland the right to press their claims for local self-determination.

"I charge that Senator Harding is backed by the Liberty Bond speculators' party, now arranging a sudden coup in these securities through some plan of re-issue which will work to the prejudice of the tax payers. I define as arrayed behind Senator Harding, the Anti-federal Reserve Act party, whose real purpose is to destroy the greatest piece of legislation adopted by the congress of the United States in half a century.

Profiteers With Harding

"I find arrayed behind Senator Harding the Profiteer party, whose gratification is expressed for past immunity from effective legislative action and which flames with anger when it contemplates the profits denied it by the gradual reduction of prices under this administration. Furthermore, this party seeks to control the treasury department under a reactionary administration, so that they may escape the payment of tax on incomes swollen by war profits.

"Then there is the Anti-League of Nations party, possessing a perfect understanding with Senator Harding that he is to settle every plan looking to international peace. I invite attention to the obvious fact that its dual leadership, Senators Johnson and Borah, cannot say a word in behalf of Senator Harding's reactionary brand of republicanism, nor in behalf of the boss control of the Chicago convention, nor yet in defense of the slush fund that Borah once characterized as the most 'frightful thing' in American politics. This destructionist array contains the munitions making party, an organization with a vast propaganda fund at its disposal, ready and eager to embroil the world in fresh wars. Of course, this body is for the candidate who would 'scrap the league,' and open way to future war. It has a branch known as the Mexican Intervention party, which hopes to secure a president complicit to its wishes will harry the lives of American boys, and the respect of the nations of the world, for concessions in Mexico.

"There is behind Senator Harding the Afro-American party, whose hyphenated activity has attempted to stir up troubles among the negroes upon false claims that it can bring social equality, thereby subjecting the unsuspecting colored people to the counter attacks of those fomenting racial prejudice and endangering them to the bloody race riots which distinguished cities like Chicago, citadel of William Hale Thompson, one of the supporters of Senator Harding. Through appeals to prejudice and through daily manifestations of doubtfulness, there is invited loss of the true progress of the colored people.

All Made to March Together

"I have enumerated some but not all of the complex parties which for a most extraordinary campaign are to be made to march together. I refer the facts cited to any body of impartial investigators to ascertain the truth or the falsity of the assertions as to the parties I have made.

"No attempt has been made to classify the insidious paid organizations working within reputable associations of the country. I make the assertion without fear of contradiction that there are no less than 20 so-called patriotic organizations formed during the war, like the American Defense society, seemingly for patriotic purposes, sponsored and brought forth deceitfully as agencies for the election of a reactionary candidate. We are finding daily manifestations of the distribution of the huge campaign fund which I charged was being collected and proved had been collected, in the employment of propagandists under one guise or another in numerous social organizations of the country. Attempt has been made in lodge and club, by salaried workers, to turn the agencies of these organizations to political ends upon false propaganda.

Should Be Rebuked

"I believe that the American people will take stock of these parties supporting Senator Harding, and give them a rebuke richly deserved. If these parties have been aligned by false pretenses, then the course of the events will furnish its own punishment to disloyal groups.

"It is interesting to observe that from the front porch in Marion there has been something given to every one of these groups. Necessarily the addresses have conflicted at times, more especially when the candidate has sought to reconcile the special interests with the simon-pure Americanism which he affects to represent.

But each party has been assured that the word to it is exclusive and controlling and all in conflict with each special message, public or private, is to be disregarded. I insist these facts be submitted candidly for investigation as the issue comes to be determined. I do not envy Senator Harding his motley array of diversified special interests. I would not trade places with him nor accept the obligation that follow when the open secret, or implied promises become due and ready for payment. I bespeak for a man burdened as he would be burdened with a load of promises, that conflict with the mandates of conscience and with the sacred oath of office, I array the parties seeking to use the historic republican party, because I would that its members know of the strange guests who are quartered, temporarily, in its temple, and progress in the world. This was the basis upon which I was nominated. It is the basis upon which I will take given. Their leaders boast such as surance, nor has there ever been de-not. It is evident that the entire companion of the senatorial oligarchy began more than eighteen months ago in hypocrisy and deceit has been continued on that base. I am glad to feel that I know that in this campaign I am a free man and therefore under no obligations to anyone and with promises to none.

I have been enabled to go to the people and permit them to question me. That is the reason why no man has been doubted an answer from me upon any question at any time, relevant or irrelevant."

DISTINCTIVE SLEEVES
DEGREE OF FASHION

BY CORA MOORE.
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—There is much ado about sleeves. They may be long or short, wide or narrow, but they must be distinctive. Of the very abbreviated models two are shown. The sleeves at the left, finished with the double ruffle, are very full, with the gathers evenly distributed around the armhole so that the material pounces a trifle over the velvet ribbon band even at the under-arm seam.

The second sleeve belongs to a simple checked serge frock. The tiny sleeves are cut with a little fullness which is distributed across the top and then put into a band of white flannel, like the soft, scalloped, turn-over collar that finishes the neck. The band itself is made double and so seamed that it flares out and away from the arm, which is a new feature.

"The Woman With the Serpent's Tongue"

The following poem was written by the eminent English poet, William Watson, who, in a signed statement, admitted that in it he intended to portray the physical characteristics of Mrs. Asquith. The poem was written because of her scorching frankness in her writings—a frankness that appears also in this autobiography.

She is not old, she is not young,
The woman with the serpent's tongue,
The bugged cheek, the hanging eye,
The pointed nose that wags and flies,
Who half makes love to you today,
Tomorrow gives her guest away,
Burnt up within by that strange soul
She cannot slave or yet control.

ADDRESSED MEN'S CLUB

Speaker Says U. S. Should Care for Physical Well-Being of Individuals

The results of the draft proved that we are a physically inferior people, said Benjamin L. Young, who is slated for the speakership of the state house of representatives, at a meeting last night of the Men's club connected with the First Universalist church. Felton L. Moody presided at the meeting that was held in the parish house and was preceded by a supper. Mr. Young's address dealt with various phases of the administration of state government.

As a remedy for physical unfitness, Mr. Young asserted that medical science could accomplish much, and that by reducing the number of criminals, paupers and feeble-minded could cut down the tax rate. "Now is the time for the state to give attention to the physical well-being of individuals," said the speaker.

Mr. Young asserted that our present system of legislative government is inefficient. He said that all the details of legislation are worked out in committees and that much hard, conscientious endeavor is devoted to the task. "We have a complaint of our government of our legislative bodies but how often we neglect our own primary duty of voting," said Mr. Young. "The individual is the foundation of our government and if the individual falls there is a great undermining of the policies and the foundations of our state government."

by reducing the number of criminals, paupers and feeble-minded could cut down the tax rate. "Now is the time for the state to give attention to the physical well-being of individuals," said the speaker.

"The individual is the foundation of our government and if the individual falls there is a great undermining of the policies and the foundations of our state government."

"There are two great needs in our government of today. The first is the introduction of business efficiency, and the second is the development of scientific investigation. Within the last two years there has been a great change in the business methods of our state government. Not long ago there were between 100 and 150 different departments with absolutely no relation to one another and with no responsible chief executive. In response to the public need and the demands of the public, Massachusetts has adopted a business-like type of government."

"The entire government would continue even if the legislature should adjourn after passing the governor's budget bill. Since the adoption of the budget system the state debt has been gradually reduced—if the debt caused by the soldiers' bonus is disregarded."

Curling Hair Like This Promotes Its Health

For those whose hair is straight and lank nothing better could be recommended than the silicone method. This involves a beautiful condition which is perfectly natural in appearance, and the health of the hair is not affected as when the heated iron is used. A few ounces of liquid silicone—which can of course be had at any drug store—lasts a long time, so it is quite economical to use. It is pleasant to use, too, being neither sticky nor greasy, and is easily applied with a clean tooth brush. The hair should be moistened the full length before doing it up. The pretty wavy effect in evidence in three hours is surprising to those who try this simple method the first time. The liquid also serves as an excellent dressing, giving the hair a delightful gloss.—Adv.

A few years ago we had revenues that were expended by the department which collected them; for example, the money from automobile licenses; but now each department has to turn in all collected revenues at the end of the month. The money which is in our state treasury cannot be expended without specific legislation."

Irving D. Kimball, who recently returned from Czecho-Slovakia, where he had been engaged in Y.M.C.A. work, gave a detailed description of that country, its people, its history and the work which the Y.M.C.A. is doing there before a large audience at the Highland Congregational church last evening.

He said that the country is surrounded on all sides by potential troublemakers. Its history has been one of continual struggle to break away from despotic rulers and the people have finally succeeded. They look upon President Wilson as their great liberator, he said, because of his efforts in their behalf. The speaker described the Y.M.C.A. work there in detail.

STAMPEDE TO GOV. COX ALREADY BEGUN

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—George White, chairman of the democratic national committee, last night issued a statement in which he said that "eleventh-hour plans of the republicans would fall to check the republican and independent stampede to Gov. Cox which already has begun."

"The republican campaign is in disorder," he declared. "Party ranks have been broken. Those who for years have affiliated with the party because they have believed that it stood for high principles are deserting it."

"Independents who have often supported it are turning to Gov. Cox. In close council and deep secrecy the Harding campaign managers are seeking frantically to work out eleventh-hour plans to regain lost ground."

One of these "plans," Mr. White said, he understood, was to announce in advance the personnel of the cabinet as Senator Harding would constitute it, if elected.

"It is to contain the names of distinguished men who are seemingly discharging their party obligations at the expense of their convictions and their conscience."

"If the plan is carried out its purpose will be to impress a disgusted nation with the fact that a weak president would surround himself with strong men. It would be a confession of inefficiency unparalleled in the history of American campaigns."

Mr. White stated that the republican party was being deserted for three reasons:

"First: True Americans are determined that the League of Nations can be saved only through the election of Gov. Cox."

"Second: The country has come to know Senator Harding as at best a wabbling of great issues, and, at worst, by his own statement, a sworn enemy of any league."

"Third, Americans will not countenance the republican plan for a separate peace with Germany."

Mr. White referred to Senator Harding's declaration on League of Nations obligations. "I do not want to clarify these obligations. I want to turn my back on them."

"These words," Mr. White said, "unwashed the delicate strategy of a campaign which proposed to fool everybody until after election and began a movement which has become a stampede."

KEEPING ROADS OPEN DURING THE WINTER

The movement inaugurated by state highway officials and taken up in Lowell by the chamber of commerce, whereby roads leading out of Lowell will be kept open during the coming winter, gained considerable momentum last evening when 16 local truck owners conferred with President William N. Goodell and Traffic Manager W. S. Whitcomb at the chamber rooms.

As previously outlined, the plan is to have the state furnish snowplows to various communities and these are to be operated by the motive power of trucks owned by individuals in each community whenever a big storm comes. All the truck men present at last evening's conference assured the chamber of commerce officials of their hearty co-operation.

More definite details of the scheme will be available at a hearing to be held by the state highway authorities at the state house next Tuesday at 2 p. m. This city will be represented by a committee of truck owners and by chamber of commerce officials.

Laasy corporation in Sir James M. Barrie's "Half an Hour," being shown at the Merrimack Square theatre today. Hereafter she is to be starred exclusively in productions of this firm and some of the best stories obtainable have been purchased for her use. As Lady Milford in "Half an Hour," she is an aristocratic young wife and unquestionably adds another character achievement to her repertoire. Other features of the current program include "The Naked Hand," a short dramatic subject; the International News, a comedy; a Burton Holmes travel picture and Will Rogers' funny Illiterate Digest.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

As good vaudeville as will be found anywhere is on tap at the B. F. Keith theatre this week. Nothing better done in the one-act play line can be conceived than "The Man Who Rattled," as played by Will M. Cressey and Blanche Payne. It is a thoroughly good act. The Stantons, through their spirit of boyish pranks, never let an

Thousands of Pairs of New Fall NEWARK Shoes for Men, Built to Sell at the Closely Marked Price of $8.95, and the Equal of Previous $10 and $12 Values--All to Go at $6.00

It's Coming!

You see it more and more each day! Prices ARE coming down! And now we are swinging into line with another smashing economy drive that brings you shoes of superior quality and perfect style at a tremendous saving!

Sale Begins Tomorrow Morning at 8 O'clock.

FOR MEN
This is Model No. 3220

One of the many elegant styles that were built to sell for $8.95 this Fall. Choice of Gun Metal and Koko Mahogany. Now only $6.00

Do not mistake the nature of this event. It is not a "lucky purchase" of shoes bought expressly for a sale, or anything like that. It is our own entire brand new, regular Fall stock of NEWARK shoes that were built to sell at $8.95 and which were in every respect the same grades that previously brought $10 and $12.

But by the time the Fall season rolled around things had changed. We saw the hand-writing on the wall. Prices were tumbling on nearly everything. And so we deliberately slashed the price of these shoes from $8.95 to $6.00!

Such a radical move at the very threshold of a new season has never been known before in ordinary business practice, but neither has this country ever gone through an ordeal such as it is now weathering.

audience rest for any length of time. They are first rate entertainers, and "Pony" Ward and Frances Rice present comedy and personation, delightfully blended. Dick Duffey and Hazel Mann are a neat pair, who have a model act, and other good things on the bill are: Capt. Beta, seals and monkeys; Elder Sisters, dancers, and Tony, the wandering violinist.

THE STRAND

If you have seen "The Whip" and enjoyed it you will want to see the latest Metro special, "The Hope," a big Drury Lane melodramatic success which is showing at The Strand. It is one of those big artistic presentations that has all of the elements that make a picture offering high-grade. It's a story of social intrigue and the race track. Don't miss it. Then there is Frank Mayo in a story of smugglers road along the Canadian border called, "The Red Lantern." It has action and a gripping story.

OPERA HOUSE

You can't afford to miss the production of "Oh, Boy!" which is being presented this week by the Lowell Players at the Opera House. It is absolutely the best thing of its kind given by local stock circles in seasons. It has catchy music, good humor, and some clever characterizations. Miss Fields and Miss Hill, assisted by a chorus of high school girls, are delightfully pleasing. Miss Hill scores heavily in Maxwell Delacour's own composition, "The Lot of Erin," and Miss Fields handles her numbers with characteristic grace and charm. Both have good singing voices. Order your tickets early.

Next week the management will present "The Cave Girl," the back-to-nature comedy that recently completed a sensational New York run, and was released for stock use within a few weeks.

RIALTO THEATRE

George M. Cohan's best story, "45 Minutes From Broadway," is meeting with great success at the Rialto theatre. The picture is being shown there for the latter part of the week and has Charles Ray starring in the role of the playboy. The other pictures are Tom Moore in "The Adventures of Bear Cliff," Jimmy Adams in a screening comedy, "A Fresh Start," King Baggot in the 13th episode of "The Hawk's Trail," a scientific novelty, and the Fox news

M'ADOO SPEAKS FOR COX

G. O. P. Victory Would Mean

Isolation of U. S., Large Army and Heavy Taxes

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 15.—A republican victory at the polls next month means rejection of the League of Nations and the isolation of the United States, according to Mr. G. O. P. Victory would mean isolation of U. S., large army and heavy taxes.

Speaking in the interests of Cox and Roosevelt, democratic presidential and vice presidential candidates, Mr. McAdoo declared here last night.

He said that the national debts of the chief belligerents of the war, including the United States, had been estimated at $235,000,000,000. At a "moderate rate of interest, 5 per cent, and with a sinking fund of 1 per cent per annum, the annual service of this debt is $14,310,000,000," he said.

"Little more than 1 per cent of the total United States appropriation—$5,856,098,736 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1920—was devoted to government research, larger army, navy, public health, women's and children's bureau, bureau of mines, bureau of standards, bureau of fisheries, all activities in agriculture, bureau of domestic science, vocational education, congressional library, and Smithsonian institute."

"A recent analysis by Dr. E. B. Rosa, of the United States bureau of standards, showed that 92.5 per cent was for expenditures connected with recent and previous wars, and for the maintenance of our army and navy."

"Staying out of the League and playing a lone hand will mean that we cannot reduce the burdens of taxation. On the contrary, we must increase them by arming this nation on land and sea so that it will be impregnable against attack and capable of taking the offensive when our rights are transgressed. This will, of course, increase our tax burdens enormously, because we must begin competing in this matter of armed forces with all the other powers of the earth."

It will also mean universal military training, which is a disguise or smothering term for what is unpopularly known as conscription. "We were justified in adopting conscription as a war measure, but as a preparation for future wars, especially when such preparations will be necessary if we join the league, it would be unjustifiable."

"After all, is not this policy of isolation which Senator Harding and the republican leaders insist upon, the necessary corollary of the plan so strongly advocated by leaders of the republican party to adopt universal military training, and create a huge army and navy which will make us the chief military power of the world, and threaten the very foundations of free government and democratic institutions which we love and revere?"

"It is an interesting fact that Senator Harding has declared himself a believer in universal and compulsory service oftentimes referred to as conscription."

"The nations of Europe owe the American people more than $10,000,000,000 for money loaned to aid in prosecuting the war against the central powers. In a recent speech, Senator Harding intimated that he would rather see this debt cancelled or forgive our foreign creditors, than allow them to work it out through exchange of goods and commodities."

"He suggests an increase in the tariff to such a high point that Europe will not only be unable to pay the debt, but by practically stopping importation will make it impossible for her to buy our surplus products."

"This would be a policy of the utmost stupidity so far as the interests of the American people are concerned, but it would be a beneficial policy for big business and selfish interests which of course would profit by having complete control of our domestic market, but the farmer with his grain and cotton would suffer more than he already has suffered through decline in our export trade."

BACK FROM WEDDING TRIP
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Landry, the latter formerly Miss Anna Theriault, returned from their wedding trip to New York today, and they will make their home at 17 Gresham avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Landry were married last Monday morning at a nuptial mass celebrated at St. Joseph's rectory by Rev. L. N. Beaudin, O.F.M. The bride wore a blue traveling suit and was given away by her father, Mr. J. Theriault, while the groom was attended by his father, Mr. Damase Landry. The groom is the proprietor of the Moody Street Cash market and is well known in local social circles.

Held on Theft Charge

that he thought London was the man wanted by the police of Manchester, Boston, Lawrence and other cities for alleged mysterious break.

Of the goods alleged to have been taken by London in this city, Lieut. Pettie has recovered two dress suits, cases full of articles and has traced a large amount of machinists' tools which were stolen from 405 Middlesex street and which London is alleged to have sold in Boston for $75, far below their actual value. Goods which the defendant is said to have taken in Manchester have also been recovered in Boston, it is said. The complainants in the thefts already charged are Alice Beutrie of Allen street, Donna Vincent of Allen street, Mrs. Danforth of Middlesex street, and a machinist by the name of Rousseau of Middlesex street.

London was a hard man to catch, according to Lieut. Pettie, because he is said never to have remained in any city after committing breaks. He would go into a city, Pettie alleges, with his campaign well planned ahead, get the goods and then jump out as soon as possible. Several skeletons, keys, the police claim, were found on London and Lieut. Pettie stated that London traveled as a salesman but cause it was easy for him to get by with large cases without suspicion.

Autoist Is Fined $110

A fine of $110 for operating an automobile while drunk and a fine of $10 for drunkenness was imposed upon Arthur Smith, who was arrested in Lawrence street, near Tyler, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Sergt. Philip Dwyer, Officers Boyle and Cawley, after he had driven his machine into one or two trees nearby. Four witnesses took the stand this morning and testified that the defendant was so affected by the influence of liquor that he could not handle his automobile. Judge Enright was in favor of imposing a jail sentence, but in view of the fact that direct sentences for similar offenses in the past have not been sustained by the superior court, the fine was imposed. Defendant procured money and paid cash.

William R. Blum, formerly a second hand furniture dealer of Hoboken, N. J., and a contractor of Rochester, N. Y., charged with non-support of his wife and three minor children, was found not guilty on one count, but guilty on a second. For the support of his children he was ordered to pay $15 per week. The charge of non-support of wife was dropped because the court found that he has been contributing partially to her support and because the wife, now living in this city, is the owner of a store, which makes from $300 to $325 profit each week and which was bought with money that really belonged to the husband.

Previous to the wife moving to this city, the family lived in Rochester for 15 years, the husband owner of a contracting business. Adversely struck by his business and he is alleged to have made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. Before the alleged bankruptcy crash came he signed over $10,000 worth of property in Rochester to his wife so that he would have something left out of the wreck. Later the wife sold the property and after paying off the mortgage on it came to this city with several hundred dollars and bought the store which she now runs. The husband offered to make a home in Rochester where he insisted upon remaining.

Received Money From Husband

The wife admitted on the stand that she had received some money from her husband and the son and daughter told that every time that the father came to Lowell he gave them some money and bought them some clothes. The court found him not guilty of non-support of his wife inasmuch as it was with his money that she bought the store, but found him guilty of non-support of his children on the ground that he was violating the law even though he was contributing partially to their support.

James Kelly and Arthur Higgins, charged with drunkenness and with trespassing on real estate, called on continuance, were again put over for one month with the provision that they go to work meantime or a sentence to the reformatory would be imposed. Dewey Bowers, also called on continuance for trespassing upon property, had his case placed on file because the court learned that he had been working since his case was first called and continued.

Other cases included one for two complaints for drunkenness for which the defendant was given a suspended sentence to the house of correction; a complaint of larceny against a school boy was put over until next Friday; charges of delinquency against two girls; larceny of a horse, two complaints of trespassing which were placed on file. The probation officer released two first offenders for drunkenness.

City Political Battle Starts

therefore, he less arduous. It will also prove a convenience, he believes, to a large number of people who work downtown all day and who would not vote if the polls closed at 4 o'clock.

It Would Be Legal

When the petition was first submitted there immediately arose the question of whether the extension of the hours would not interfere with the state law. Section 279, chapter 385, of the Acts of 1913, provides the contrary. It says in part:

"In cities, the polls may be opened as early as 6 o'clock in the forenoon and shall be opened as early as 10 o'clock in the forenoon and shall be kept open at least six hours, but in no case after the hour of 8 o'clock in the evening."

Mr. Tuttle's petition will come before the council at its regular meeting next Tuesday when the hours for the holding of the state election will probably be definitely determined.

TO SET THE DATE FOR O. M. I. FIELD DAY

In the cadet armory in East Merrimack street this evening a meeting of the O. M. I. cadets will be held to consider setting a date for the field day, scheduled for Columbus day at the Genoa club, but which was postponed on account of the death of Cadet Francis Murphy. Col. Alfred Burns stated this morning that a vote would be taken this evening for the date and it is likely that it will be one week from tomorrow. All the sports and the sham battle planned for Columbus day will be run off on that day.

A meeting of all those men who contrived the firing squad at Cadet Murphy's funeral will also be held this evening. Members of the drum corps are requested to be present.

The members of the O. M. I. football team will hold a practice session on the North common this evening, previous to their game tomorrow afternoon.

MEETING IS POSTPONED

The meeting of the advertising committee of the chamber of commerce, which was to have been held at noon today, was postponed until next week, owing to the absence of the chairman, Harold L. Chaffoux.

FOR WORLD REVOLUTION 24 HOUR ULTIMATUM CLAIMS HE WAS HURT IN

Soviet Leader Pleads With Gen. Zellgouski Demands Withdrawal of all Lithuanian Troops

HALL, Germany, Oct. 14. (By Associated Press.)—For four hours today Mr. Zinovief, chairman of the executive committee of the third international, pleaded with the four big chiefs of soviet Russia, pleaded with the independent socialists at their convention here to join with Moscow, create a revolution in Germany and help carry out the proletarian program for a world revolution. He offered financial support.

At the conclusion of his address, the radicals of the party and the audience in the packed galleries stood with bared heads singing the international while the conservatives walked slowly out of the hall.

A great ovation was then accorded Zinovief with many "bravo" and cries of "Long live the international!" and the waving of flags.

It is expected the vote as to whether the independent socialists will adhere to the Moscow organization will be taken tomorrow (Friday).

Throughout his impassioned argument, the Russian orator was the storm center of cries of approval from the left wing in his audience, followed by bitter words from the right. At one time, he charged the German labor unions with being "no better than Noske's white guards," and that they were tools in the hands of the capitalists. The entire audience hissed its disapproval of this declaration and a number of the ring wing leaders, shaking their fists, rushed to the rostrum threatening the speaker and demanding retractions.

NATURALIZATION COMMITTEE
An important meeting of the permanent naturalization committee of the French-speaking people of this city will be held this evening at the home of Mr. Maximine Lepine, 184 E. Main street. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the plan which has been proposed some time ago, for making a thorough survey of the city in order to ascertain the number of French-speaking people residing in Lowell, also the names of all the voters as well as the names of young men whose names should appear on the check list, but do not. In addition the committee will endeavor to secure the names of all young men and young women between the ages of 19 and 21, who are eligible to vote in their first nomination papers. The plan is to have canvassers visit every district of the city and make a house-to-house canvass.

JOHN M. FARRELL.....Auctioneer
Office: 162 Market St., Lowell, Mass.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

Merrimack Hotel Property, Corner of Merrimack and Dutton Streets, and Also Several Parcels of Land
PROPERTY WILL BE OPEN FROM 10 A. M. UNTIL AFTER THE SALE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Henry Emery to the Mechanics Savings Bank in Lowell and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, I shall sell at public auction upon the various parcels hereinafter described on Saturday, October 16th, 1920—

LOT NO. 1—
Consists of the well known business property on the main street of the city of Lowell located right in the heart of the business district at the corner of Merrimack and Dutton streets across from City Hall. The property has about 125 feet frontage on Merrimack street and about 155 feet frontage on Dutton street, and contains about 20,000 square feet of land.

This property is known as the Merrimack House Property, Nos. 300-315 Merrimack St. and 131-139 and Music Hall entrance, Dutton street is a four-story brick building. Nos. 131-139 Dutton street is a three-story brick building. There is also a one-story building with store numbered 320 Merrimack street.

There are three fire escapes to a passageway leading from Dutton street.

EIGHT STORES
There are eight stores in all, including one formerly used as a saloon, a shoe store, restaurant, ladies' cloak and suit store, butter and egg store, barber shop, tailor shop and electric appliance store.

HOTEL
The hotel has two entrances, one on each street. There are about 80 rooms and almost every room is an outside room, so-called. This includes the large reception rooms, private dining rooms, banquet hall, kitchen and lavatory.

THEATRE
The entrance on Dutton St. is covered by a large electric lighted marquee. Seating capacity is about 900, including the main floor, balcony and boxes. Can easily be enlarged to accommodate 2000 people. Equipped with large size stage and dressing rooms. No personal property included in this sale.

This is a corner lot and there is a large passageway leading from Dutton St. therefore the property is entirely open on three sides.

It is only once in a lifetime that you have an opportunity to buy, at public auction, such a desirable piece of property located as it is in the center of Lowell's best business section.

LOT NO. 2—
Consists of 15 parcels and lots of land. On corner of MT. HOPE STREET and FIFTH AVENUE. Lot 291 containing about 1000 square feet and Lot 292 containing 320 square feet.

ON AVON ST.—Lot 123 containing about 3275 square feet, Lot 124 containing 3310 square feet, Lot 125 containing 3325 square feet, Lot 126 containing 3340 square feet, Lot 127 containing 3355 square feet, Lot 128 containing 3370 square feet, Lot 129 containing 3385 square feet, Lot 130 containing 3400 square feet, Lot 131 containing 3415 square feet, Lot 132 containing 3430 square feet, Lot 133 containing 3445 square feet, Lot 134 containing 3460 square feet, and Lot 135 containing 3475 square feet.

ON CRAWFORD ST.—Lot 58 containing 3575 square feet, Lot 59 containing 3590 square feet, Lot 103 containing 3575 square feet, Lot 104 containing 3590 square feet.

Lots 95 and 105 are slightly smaller than above described.

These lots are shown on a recorded plan and are located in that part of Lowell known as Pawtucketville and have all city conveniences.

ON NEW YORK ST.—Also another parcel of land situated on the southerly side of New York street containing 77,000 square feet of land more or less.

This land has about 170 feet frontage on New York street and is a good location to build homes for people working in the nearby mills. The 17 lots of land and the parcel of land on New York street will be sold on Lot No. 291, corner of Fifth Avenue and Mt. Hope St. This is absolutely the most valuable piece of real estate that has been offered at public sale in Lowell for many years, and should certainly demand the attention of a large number of investors.

TERMS OF SALE—
$2500 in cash to be paid by the purchaser to the auctioneer at time and place of sale on Lot No. 1.
$250 in cash to be paid by the purchaser to the auctioneer at time and place of sale on Lot No. 2. Other terms at sale.
Per order of Mechanics Savings Bank in Lowell, Mortgagee and Present Holder of Said Mortgage. JULIAN B. KEYES, Treasurer.
